

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

of Police Court.

227. The Clerk of the Police Court shall have charge of the Seal of the Court and shall have power to administer oaths and to receive the fees fines and forfeitures of the Court which he shall pay to the Treasurer. He shall attend all sittings of the Court and record the particulars of each case and be responsible for the keeping of all documents and records of the Court. He shall furnish transcripts of the evidence taken from shorthand notes and shall furnish copies of the decisions in any case to any person who shall apply for them and pay the lawful fees and he shall prepare abstracts of the cases heard each month to be signed by the Magistrate and forwarded to the Premier.

PROCEDURE OF POLICE COURT.

CRIMINAL JURISDICTION.

228. No one shall be tried or ordered to attend the Court or be punished for not appearing at the Court without previously receiving a summons. Summons to issue.

229. Any officer of the police or any person who wishes to prosecute any person for a breach of the law shall apply to the Clerk of the Police Court for a summons and shall clearly state the nature of the offence and the time and place in which it was committed. Mode of initiating prosecution.

230. No one shall be tried for any offence except that stated in the summons. Offence to be stated.

231. The Clerk shall thereupon make out a summons in the form laid down in Schedule 1 hereof stating the name of the accused and the offence and the time when he is called upon to appear and the Magistrate shall sign the summons which shall then be served upon the accused by the police. Summons—how issued.

232. No one shall be intimidated to cause him to confess the admission of any crime nor shall the life property or liberty of any person be interfered with except as according to law. Intimidation.

233. No fees shall be paid for a summons for any of the following offences which are offences against the public:— No fees for offences against the public.

1. Felonies punishable only by imprisonment.
2. Larceny.
3. Grievous Assault.
4. Malicious Damage to Property.
5. Damage to Government Property.
6. Adultery.
7. Fornication.
8. Offences against Customs Quarantine and Postal Laws.
9. Offences against the Pound Law.
10. Offences against Town Regulations.
11. Offences in which the police or public servants prosecute on behalf of the Government.

234. No person convicted before any Court shall be compelled to pay costs unless costs were paid by the prosecutor. In charges laid by the public servants the accused if convicted shall not be compelled to pay costs. Costs not payable in certain cases.

Fees payable for offences against the individual.

235. Fees shall be paid for summons as laid down in the schedule hereof for the following offences which are offences against the individual:—

1. Petty assault.
2. Trespass.
3. Slander and libel.
4. Abusive language.
5. Forcible detention of property.
6. Destruction to property by animals.
7. Bodily injury by animals.
8. Offences in which the injured individual is prosecutor.

EXPLANATION.—The police shall not prosecute in breaches of the law where the injury is a private one:—1. A uses abusive language to B, a policeman, in A's house, at a kava party. B must pay fees, as he was not on duty at the time. 2. A abuses B for arresting B, and pushes him. B will not pay fees, because to obstruct a policeman while in the execution of his duty is an offence against the public.

Subpoenas.

236. The Clerk shall draw up subpoenas to be signed by the Magistrate to summon any witness required by the prosecutor or defendant and fees shall be paid for subpoenas according to the schedule hereof: provided that no fees shall be paid for subpoenas for witnesses required to give evidence for the Government in offences enumerated in Section 233.

Fees in advance.

237. All fees shall be paid in advance and no summons for which fees are required by law shall be issued until such fees are paid.

Service of summons.

238. Summons shall be served at least twenty-four hours before the case is heard.

EXPLANATION.—Summons are to be served as follows:—The policeman shall give the summons into the hand of the defendant, but if the defendant shall refuse to take it, then the summons shall be laid down before him. If the policeman cannot find the defendant, the summons may be left at the defendant's last place of abode, and the policeman should tell any person residing there to give it to the defendant.

Warrants of arrest.

239. In the case of a charge of felony or misdemeanour where the accused is likely to abscond the Magistrate shall issue a warrant of arrest but not a summons and the police shall forthwith arrest the accused and confine him at the police station and bring him before the Magistrate at the next sitting of the Court.

EXPLANATION.—Arrests are to be effected as follows:—The policeman shall touch the person and say the words, "I arrest you in the King's name," and shall show him the warrant. If the accused attempts to escape or is violent, he may be handcuffed and brought by force to the police station, but no more force must be used than is necessary. If the policeman is unable to effect the arrest without assistance, he may call upon any bystander in the King's name to assist him, and if anyone so called upon should refuse he would be liable to a penalty. (See Section 366.)

Charge sheet.

240. All cases to be heard by the Court shall be entered upon the charge sheet with the name of the accused and the offence with which he is charged and the names of the prosecutor and witnesses and the cases shall be called for hearing consecutively from the charge sheet.

Dismissal of case.

241. If the prosecutor whether a public servant or not shall fail to appear when called the accused shall be at once discharged.

242. Should any accused person fail to appear when his name is called the policeman who served the summons shall make oath that he duly served the summons and the Magistrate may thereupon sign a warrant for his arrest and the policeman may arrest him and confine him at the station until the next sitting of the Court when he shall be brought up and the Magistrate may discharge the witnesses and order them to appear at the next sitting of the Court.

Accused to be arrested if he disobeys summons.

EXPLANATION.—This section refers only to criminal cases, and has no reference to civil procedure.

243. If the accused shall appear when called he shall stand up respectfully in the Court and the Clerk shall read the charge and ask him whether he pleads "Guilty" or "Not Guilty" and shall enter his answer accordingly in the records.

Charge and plea of accused.

EXPLANATION.—The accused cannot at this stage make a statement, but may only answer "Guilty," or "Not guilty." He will have an opportunity for making his statement after all the evidence for the prosecution has been given.

244. It shall not be lawful for any person accused of an offence to appoint any person to represent him. If he should fail to appear in obedience to the summons he may be arrested on a warrant and confined until the next sitting of the Court.

Accused to appear in person.

245. The witnesses for the prosecution shall then be sworn as follows:—"I swear that I will speak the truth in the evidence that I shall give before the Court. So help me God." And shall kiss the Bible.

Oath of witness.

EXPLANATION.—If the witness be a Quaker, or one who does not profess the Christian Faith, he shall be affirmed as follows:—"I solemnly affirm that I will speak the truth in the evidence that I shall give before this Court," and any person giving false evidence on affirmation would be liable to the penalty for perjury.

246. After each witness for the prosecution has given his evidence and has answered any questions the Court may put to him the accused shall be asked whether he desires to put any questions to him upon his evidence and the Magistrate shall cause the witness to answer without reservation the questions the accused may wish to put.

Cross-examination of witnesses.

247. If it should appear to the Magistrate that the charge be wrongly worded it shall be lawful for him to order the charge to be amended and the accused shall be remanded until the next sitting of the Court when he shall appear upon the amended charge.

Charge may be amended.

248. When all the witnesses for the prosecution have given their evidence the accused shall be asked to make his statement but he must not be sworn nor compelled to make any statement unless he chooses.

Statement of accused.

EXPLANATION.—The Magistrate should never speak harshly to an accused person, or ask him questions likely to incriminate him, but only questions necessary to elucidate the case. He should give due weight to the statement of the accused, for he may be speaking the truth, although he is not on oath.

249. It shall be lawful for the prosecutor at any stage of a case to withdraw the charge.

Charge may be withdrawn.

Witnesses for defence.

250. After the accused has had an opportunity for making his statement he shall be allowed to call witnesses if he desires to do so and they shall each give their evidence on oath and answer the questions of the accused and of the Magistrate. The prosecutor shall then be allowed to ask them any questions he may wish to put concerning the evidence they have given.

Decision.

251. After hearing all the evidence the Magistrate shall give his decision and the Clerk shall record it in the minute book.

Warrants.

252. After the closing of the Court the Clerk shall make out the warrants for fine or imprisonment according to the sentences passed in Court and the Magistrate shall sign them and deliver them to the police to be executed.

Remands.

253. It shall be lawful for the Magistrate to adjourn any criminal case and remand the accused for the purpose of obtaining further evidence or for a similar reason.

Accused must be present.

254. It shall not be lawful to try any person for a crime or misdemeanour unless such person is present in Court.

No witness' expenses.

255. No allowances shall be granted to witnesses.

EXPLANATION.—No compensation shall be made to any person for the time spent in attending any Court as a witness.

APPEALS IN CRIMINAL CASES.

Appeals—Criminal.

256. Should any person convicted before the Police Court feel aggrieved at the decision he may appeal in writing to the Minister of Police praying that his case may be re-heard and should it appear to the Minister of Police that there has been a miscarriage of justice he may with the consent of the Cabinet order the case to be re-heard by the Supreme Court without a jury and no fees shall be payable for such re-hearing.

CIVIL PROCEDURE.

Action—how commenced.

257. Any person who may desire to recover from another a debt or damages or property or any kind of indemnity he may apply to the Clerk of the Police Court for a summons and upon the receipt of the fees laid down in the schedule hereof the Clerk shall issue the summons in the form laid down in schedule hereto.

EXPLANATION.—Civil actions are not confined to debts, but include also breaches of contracts, and all cases that are not offences, but are in the nature of torts, for which no special law is provided.

1. A sells to B a house to which he believes himself to be entitled, though the house legally belongs to E. E may sue A and B in the Civil Court for the reversion of his house, and the Court may order the house to be returned to E, and the money received by A to be returned to B.

2. A borrows a cart from B, and returns it with a damaged wheel: B may sue A in the Civil Court for the value of the damage sustained.

Limit of jurisdiction.

258. No summons shall be issued by a Police Magistrate if the amount or value sued for exceeds two hundred and fifty dollars ($250). The Supreme Court alone can hear a suit for a larger amount than two hundred and fifty dollars ($250).

259. The summons may be served upon the defendant either by the police or any other person at least forty-eight hours before the Court sits and the mode of service shall be the same as that laid down in Section 238 of the Law. Service of summons.

260. Subpoenas to witnesses as laid down in Section 236 shall be issued upon payment of the fees. Subpoena.

261. Upon the sitting of the Court the names of both plaintiff and defendant shall be called in a loud voice. If the plaintiff fails to appear the Magistrate shall give judgment for the defendant but if the defendant fails to appear the person who served the summons shall make oath that he duly served it on the defendant forty-eight hours before the sitting of the Court and the plaintiff shall then produce sworn evidence in support of his case and if the Magistrate considers the claim proved he shall order that the defendant shall pay the amount claimed together with costs of the case and the Clerk shall make out an order signed by the Magistrate for the payment of the amount to the Court within fourteen (14) days when if such amount be not paid it shall be recovered by distress. Procedure in Court.

262. But if it shall be proved that either plaintiff or defendant were too ill to attend the Court or for other reasonable cause the Magistrate shall adjourn the case and order all the witnesses to appear upon the day appointed. Judgment by default.

263. If both parties appear or their representatives the Clerk shall then administer the oath to the plaintiff's witnesses who shall give their evidence upon oath and the defendant may ask them any questions concerning their evidence that their evidence may be clear but each of the witnesses shall first be sworn before they give evidence for the plaintiff and then it shall be permitted for the defendant to ask witness any question so that their evidence may be clear. Adjournment for illness.

264. The Clerk shall then administer the oath to the defendant's witnesses and they shall give their evidence in turn and the plaintiff may then ask each of them any questions concerning their evidence so that their evidence may be clear but they shall first be sworn before they give evidence and the plaintiff may then ask questions so that their evidence may be clear. Plaintiff's witnesses.

EXPLANATION.—The Magistrate must give equal weight to the evidence for the plaintiff and defendant, both parties being on oath: the defendant is not accused of any offence, and may have no greater motive to give false evidence than has the plaintiff. Defendant's witnesses.

265. All the witnesses shall answer respectfully any questions the Magistrate may put to them concerning the case. Questions by Court.

266. After hearing all the evidence the Magistrate shall give judgment that either the whole or part of the claim be paid or that nothing be paid by defendant but if the Magistrate decides that the defendant shall pay any part of the claim he shall also order him to pay to the plaintiff all costs of the case which the plaintiff may have paid to the Clerk. Judgment.

EXPLANATION.—A has three witnesses, and B only one. The Magistrate shall consider which evidence is most credible, for three persons may have agreed to lie, while one may be speaking the truth. Costs.

Counsel.

267. In civil cases it shall be lawful for either plaintiff or defendant to appoint some person to represent him in the Court but it shall not be lawful for any foreigner to appear for or speak for or act as counsel for any native of Tonga in any Court but foreigners may give evidence on behalf of Tongans. It shall be lawful for the plaintiff to withdraw the suit at any stage of the case.

Suits may be withdrawn.Adjournment.

268. It shall be lawful for the Magistrate if he think proper to adjourn any case for the production of further evidence or for any such cause.

Judgment enforced.

269. After the Magistrate has given his decision in the case the Clerk shall record it and if the order be for the payment of money the Magistrate shall make an order that the money and the costs be paid within fourteen days or levied by distress in default of payment and shall give the warrant to the Inspector of Police for execution.

Cross action.

270. If the defendant in any case shall wish to lay a counter claim for money against the plaintiff at the same sitting of the Court and shall pay the fees the Magistrate shall first hear the evidence in the one case and then the evidence in the other case before giving his decision and after hearing both cases he shall give one decision for both cases.

EXPLANATION.—A claims 10 dollars from B for a horse he sold to B, and B claims 15 dollars from A for repairs to his house. The Magistrate shall hear both cases, and, if he considers both claims established, he will order A to pay to B five dollars and the cost of B's action.

Debts not recoverable from natives.

271. It shall not be lawful for a European or Asian to sue for a debt from any Pacific Islander if such debt was contracted after May 4th 1890 nor to sue for more than fifteen dollars ($15) for any debt contracted between August 1st 1881 and May 4th 1890 nor to sue for more than five dollars ($5) for any debt contracted between September 17th 1878 and August 1st 1881.

Breach of contract actionable.

272. Notwithstanding the provisions of the last preceding Section it shall be lawful for any person whether European Asian or Pacific Islander to sue any person for a breach of any written contract countersigned by a Police Magistrate in the form laid down in Chapter XXIII.

Statute of Limitations.

273. It shall not be lawful to sue any person for debt or damages after the expiration of five (5) years from the date on which such liability was incurred nor to sue for property which has been in the undisputed possession of any person for more than five (5) years.

APPEALS IN CIVIL JURISDICTION.Appeal.

274. Should any person desire to appeal from the decision of the Police Magistrate in a civil suit he shall give notice to the Clerk before the expiration of seven (7) days from the date of such decision and pay a fee of ten dollars ($10) and the Clerk of the Supreme Court shall notify the Inspector of Police and apply to the Justice to appoint a day for hearing.

CONTEMPT OF COURT.

275. Whoever being a witness shall refuse to be sworn or affirmed or shall refuse to give evidence when ordered to by the Magistrate or shall wilfully pretend to misunderstand the questions put to him shall be deemed guilty of contempt of Court and may at the discretion of the Magistrate be imprisoned for not less than one hour and not exceeding one month. Contempt of Court.

EXPLANATION.—Any sentence for contempt of Court must be passed on the spot by the Magistrate, after due warning has been given to the witness, and the Clerk shall at once make out his warrant and hand it to the police for execution. No person can be prosecuted for contempt at another sitting of the Court: the penalty must be inflicted at the time.

276. Whoever shall attempt to persuade a witness not to give evidence shall on conviction be sentenced to pay a fine of from $1.00 to $100 as the Court may decide or to not exceeding three months' imprisonment in default of payment as the Court may decide and any one after sentence has been passed for imprisonment although he may then wish to pay his fine he shall not be able to do so but the sentence of the Court shall be carried out. Persuading witness.

EXPLANATION.—This charge may be laid in the regular form by serving a summons on the accused, or the penalty may be inflicted on the spot, after evidence has been taken, as the Magistrate thinks best.

277. Whoever shall after due warning by the Magistrate behave disrespectfully or in a disorderly manner during the sitting of the Court before a Justice or a Police Magistrate or shall speak in a threatening or disrespectful manner to the Justice or Magistrate during the sitting of the Court shall whether he be a witness or not be liable to imprisonment for not less than one hour or not exceeding one month. Disorderly conduct in Court.

EVIDENCE.

278. All evidence that shall be given in the Courts of Tonga shall be upon oath or affirmation according to Section 245. This shall not apply to the statement made by any person accused of felony or misdemeanour. Evidence to be sworn.

279. A witness shall testify only to what he has seen or knows of his own certain knowledge. No report or hearsay statement shall be received as evidence. Hearsay inadmissible

280. Notwithstanding the provisions of the last preceding section the statement made by a person accused of felony to the policeman arresting him may be received as evidence. Statement on arrest admissible.

281. When any person shall be accused of felony or misdemeanour he shall be accounted innocent until it has been proved by the evidence of witnesses that he is guilty. Proof of guilt.

EXPLANATION.—The Magistrate must not prejudge the accused, but leave it to the prosecutor and the witnesses to prove the charge against him. If they cannot prove it, the accused must be acquitted, whatever the Magistrate's impression may be as regards his guilt.

282. Evidence as to the previous character of an accused person is admissible. Previous character.

EXPLANATION.—If a person is charged with larceny, and the police produce evidence that he has been previously convicted of theft, his sentence should be heavier than if it was his first conviction.

- Handwriting. 283. A written contract countersigned by a Magistrate and handwriting whether signed or unsigned shall if the Court is satisfied that it is genuine be taken as evidence.
- Contracts with natives. 284. Notwithstanding the provision of the last preceding section no written undertaking by a Pacific Islander to pay money to an European or Asian shall be admissible as evidence unless countersigned by a Magistrate in accordance with Chapter XXIII.
- Tradesmen's books. 285. Tradesmen's books are not admissible as sole proof of a customer's debt unless accompanied with proof of the acceptance of the goods or other corroborative evidence.
- Dying statement. 286. The dying statement of a murdered person may be produced in evidence but no other written statement shall be admissible against a person accused of an offence although the person who made it may be absent from the Kingdom.
- EXPLANATION.—It is provided in the Constitution that the witnesses against a person charged with an offence shall be brought face to face with him, and that he shall hear their evidence and put questions to them. The production of a witness' written statement only would therefore be contrary to the Constitution.
- Two witnesses required. 287. No person shall be convicted of treason sedition or perjury unless at least two witnesses are produced in support of the charge.
- Perjury. 288. In trials for perjury the records in which the oath was registered must be produced.
- King's evidence. 289. No person shall be convicted of an offence upon the sole evidence of an accomplice: any person who shall consent to give evidence against an accomplice shall be exempted from punishment.
- Circumstantial evidence. 290. Circumstantial evidence shall be admissible but shall not be necessarily conclusive without direct evidence.
- EXPLANATION.—1. A was found dead, with his throat cut, and B, who lived with A, was found to have blood on his clothes, while the footmarks in the sand near A's body corresponded with B's foot. This is circumstantial evidence, and, although it is strong evidence that B was the murderer, still B cannot be convicted upon this alone, without some direct evidence, such as E, who heard A and B quarrelling.
2. A's house was broken open and some clothes stolen, and B was found wearing some of the stolen articles. This would be circumstantial evidence that B broke open the house.
- Witnesses. 291. Every person may be called as a witness in any Court excepting the King.
- Protection of witnesses. 292. No witness shall be compelled to give an answer to any question when such answer would tend to convict him of felony.
- Evidence of children. 293. Should any child be summoned as a witness and should it appear to the Magistrate that such child is too young to understand the nature of an oath his evidence shall not be accepted.
- Decision on evidence. 294. Justices or Magistrates shall decide every case solely upon the evidence given before them in Court without taking into account anything that they may have heard outside the Court. (See Section 463.)

GENERAL RULES.

295. No Justice or Magistrate or Juror shall adjudicate upon any case in which any of his relations are concerned either as plaintiff or defendant. Justice not to try relations.

EXPLANATION.—"Relation" in this Section shall mean grandfather, great-uncle, father, uncle, mother, aunt, brother, sister, son, daughter, grandson, granddaughter, grandmother, nephew, or any relation whom the Justice, Magistrate, or Juror may regard too much to give an unblassed opinion on his case.

296. Should any boy less than twelve years of age be charged with an offence he shall not be sentenced according to the law but it shall be lawful for the Magistrate to order that he be whipped by the police with not exceeding ten (10) lashes. If such boy should have committed an offence resulting in injury to any person or destruction of property the Magistrate may order the father or guardian of such boy to pay for the injury or damage done and such payment shall be recovered by distress. Boys may be whipped.

297. No person shall be tried for an offence committed outside the Kingdom but it shall be lawful to arrest any person accused of felony in any country which has an Extradition Treaty with Tonga and to convey such person to that country in accordance with the Treaty. Extradition.

ACCESSORIES.

298. Should a number of persons conspire together to do an unlawful act and should only one of their number commit such unlawful act they shall on conviction be all deemed to have committed such unlawful act although only one of them may have committed it. Conspiracy.

EXPLANATION.—The Magistrate should consider which of them should receive the heaviest punishment, and the punishment should be graduated in accordance with the complicity of each of them.

299. Should any person knowingly assist another in doing an unlawful act he shall be deemed to be equally guilty with the person who committed such act. Accessory.

300. Should any person be aware that a felony is about to be committed and neglect to report it to a police officer or mayor or village officer or give assistance to any person who has committed felony knowing at the time that he has committed such felony he shall be liable on conviction to not exceeding half the penalty provided by law for the felony committed by such person. Accessory before and after fact.

CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE.

301. Should any person commit a breach of the law and any person suffer bodily injury thereby he shall on conviction be liable to not exceeding half the penalty to which he would have been liable if he had knowingly injured such person and he shall also pay damage to the injured person as assessed by the Court. Criminal negligence.

EXPLANATION.—A tethers his horse on the public road, and B, riding at night, is thrown from his horse by the tether rope, and breaks his arm. A is liable to a penalty of not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100), or six months' imprisonment, that being half the penalty to which he would have been liable if he had intentionally injured B. (See Section 392.)

SEARCH WARRANTS.

Search
warrants.

302. Should any person have reason to believe that stolen property or articles forbidden by law are concealed in any house or premises it shall be lawful for him to make an affidavit before a Magistrate describing such property and the place in which he believes it to be hidden whereupon the Magistrate shall issue a search warrant in the form of Schedule 9 hereto and the police shall proceed with the warrant to search for the property described therein and may command in the King's name that any door or receptacle be opened and if access be refused they may break open such door or receptacle and search for such property.

DISTRESS WARRANTS.

Distress
warrants.

303. Every distress warrant shall be in the form laid down in this chapter and shall be signed by the Justice or Magistrate who decides the case. No person shall be liable to the execution of a distress warrant more than once on the same judgment.

Fees payable.

304. Save and excepting distress warrants for sums owing to the Crown fees shall be paid in advance for issuing distress warrants by the persons applying to have them executed.

Mode of execution.

305. Upon receipt of the fees the Clerk of the Court shall deliver the distress warrant to the Inspector of Police who shall proceed to execute it in accordance with the terms of the warrant but should the person against whom the judgment was obtained be in receipt of salary from the Government the Clerk may issue an order to the Treasurer informing him of the judgment and the Treasurer shall file such order until the pay-day next ensuing when the amount of the judgment shall be deducted from the salary of the debtor and handed to the Inspector of Police for transmission to the person to whom it is due. But if the instalment of the salary be insufficient to meet the order the balance shall be deducted from the next instalment of salary if the Treasurer consider it right.

Salary
impounded.Seizure and sale.

306. Distress warrants shall be executed as follows:—The Police Officer shall proceed to the house of the person on whom the warrant is to be executed and shall make an inventory of all his effects both inside and outside his house and shall then announce the sale by Fanogonogo in the village in which the sale is to take place and also in the neighbouring villages at least one hour before the appointed time of sale after giving the people time to assemble the officer shall remove the goods to the public square and sell them one by one to the highest bidder until the amount of the warrant is satisfied.

Return of writ.

307. All goods sold by auction shall be paid for before delivery and an inventory of the goods and the prices received for each and the name of the recipient of the money shall be entered on the back of the warrant and the warrant shall then be returned to the Clerk of the Court.

Penalty for concealment.

308. Whoever shall conceal any goods and chattels against which a distress warrant has been issued or shall make a pretended sale or gift of his goods to avoid execution or shall make a false declaration of the amount of his goods to the officer executing the warrant or conceal from such officer any of his property shall on conviction be imprisoned for not less than one day and not exceeding three (3) months. The following goods are liable to seizure and sale:—Tables beds chairs house furniture and all kinds of kitchen utensils clothing gatu (except clothing sufficient for each member of the family) boxes animals horses carts yams Tongan produce and articles of food (except growing crops). The following articles are not liable to seizure and sale:—Houses fixtures clothing sufficient for each member of the family and growing crops.

Chattels

CHAPTER V.

PUNISHMENTS.

309. The following are the punishments that may be lawfully ^{Punishments.} inflicted for breaches of the law: 1. Death by hanging. 2. Imprisonment with hard labour. 3. Imprisonment. 4. Whipping. 5. Fine.

310. Death: Sentence of death shall be carried out in the ^{Death.} district in which the person sentenced was convicted and no sentence of death shall be executed excepting upon a warrant signed by the King but it shall be lawful for the King with the consent of the Privy Council to commute a sentence of death to imprisonment for life.

311. Imprisonment with hard labour: Persons so sentenced ^{Penal} shall be confined in prison during the night and shall work for the ^{servitude.} Government during the day under the control of a gaoler or public officer.

312. Simple Imprisonment: Persons so sentenced shall be ^{Imprison-} confined both day and night in the gaol without labour. ^{ment.}

313. Whipping: Prisoners shall be whipped by the Chief ^{Whipping.} Gaoler or his subordinate in the presence of a Magistrate in the precincts of the gaol with a cat-of-nine-tails of the pattern approved by the Cabinet upon the buttocks but no person shall receive more than twenty-five lashes on any one day.

314. Fines: Fines are of two kinds:—(1.) Fines leviable by ^{Fines.} distress. (2.) Fines in default of payment for which imprisonment or imprisonment with hard labour are the alternatives and the Court shall clearly state the length of imprisonment in case of default.

315. Fourteen days from the date of judgment without ^{Fourteen days} counting Sundays shall be allowed to any person sentenced to pay a ^{grace.} fine to enable him to pay such fine before distress or imprisonment are inflicted.

316. Should any person undergo imprisonment in default of ^{How reckoned} payment of a fine his time shall be counted from the day on which his imprisonment commenced.

EXPLANATION.—A is sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars, or six months' imprisonment with hard labour in default, fourteen days being allowed him, and, failing to pay, he is imprisoned. His sentence of six months will be counted from the day his imprisonment commenced, and not from the day of his conviction.

317. Should any person be imprisoned in default of payment ^{Payment of} of a fine he shall be set at liberty upon paying his fine in full. ^{fine.}

sentence.

318. Should any person be imprisoned in default of payment of a fine and he pay part of his fine he shall be set at liberty when the proportion of the imprisonment he has undergone is equal to the proportion of the fine he has failed to pay.

EXPLANATION.—1. A was sentenced to pay a fine of forty dollars, or four months' imprisonment in default. He paid ten dollars. He should therefore be set at liberty at the end of three months, which is in the same proportion to four months as the thirty dollars he failed to pay is to his fine of forty dollars.

2. B was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars, or two months' imprisonment in default. He pays three dollars, and will be set at liberty at the end of fifty-three days, that being in the same proportion to two months as the twenty-two dollars he failed to pay is to his original fine.

CHAPTER VI.

THE INTERPRETATION OF THE LAWS.

Laws come into force.

319. No Act passed by the Legislative Assembly of this Kingdom and which has received the King's Assent (excepting Acts relating to Custom Dues) shall become law until it has been published in the Government Gazette or posted on the Notice Board of the Police Court of the District.

Promulgation of Ordinances.

320. The Privy Council may direct that any Ordinance passed by the King in Council shall be promulgated either by printing in the Native Newspaper or in the Government Gazette or in an official notice or according to the native custom of fanogonogo (by the public crier) or by holding a fono and publicly reading such Ordinance.

Premier to circulate laws, etc.

321. It shall be the duty of the Premier to furnish a copy of all laws immediately after they have been gazetted or published to each of the Executive Ministers Governors Justices Magistrates and Inspectors of Police.

Nolaw to beretrospective.

322. No law shall have any retrospective operation.

Law stronger than agreements.

323. No agreement shall nullify the action of the law.

Words inclusive.

324. The singular shall include the plural and the masculine shall include the feminine.

Definition of words.

325. The words "person" "persons" "anyone" "whoever" "another" shall signify not only one individual but the inhabitants of a village or district when such construction appears to be the meaning of the law.

Year and month.

326. The word "month" shall mean a calendar month and the word "year" a calendar year.

Oaths.

327. The word "oath" shall include an affirmation by a member of the Society of Friends or a Chinaman or any person not a Christian.

Gazette.

328. "Gazette" shall mean the Government official publication.

329. The word “dollar” shall mean the sum of four shillings ^{Dollar.} in English money or its equivalent in German or United States coin in accordance with Royal Proclamation of December 1888.

330. “Foreigner” shall mean all who are not subjects of His ^{Foreigners.} Majesty.

331. “District” shall mean any division of the Kingdom ^{District.} which may be defined in any Act or Ordinance.

332. The repeal of a law shall not re-enact any law which has ^{Repeal not to revive.} been repealed unless it is distinctly provided that such law be re-enacted.

333. A law may be repealed entirely or in part by direct ^{Repeal declared or implied.} provision or by implication. The repeal is by direct provision when expressly declared: it is implied when a new law contains provisions irreconcilable with an existing law.

334. The repeal of a law shall not affect any act done or suit ^{Repeal not retrospective.} instituted by authority of such law before it was repealed.

335. The repeal of a law shall not affect any punishment ^{Repeal not retrospective.} inflicted or judgment for money pronounced or order made by the authority of such law before it was repealed.

336. Offences shall be divided into treason felonies and mis- ^{Offences classed.} demeanours.

337. The following offences are declared to be felonies by the ^{Felonie} Constitution and Law of Tonga:—

1. Sedition.
2. Culpable Homicide.
3. Assault with intent to do grievous bodily harm.
4. Rape and Unnatural Offences.
5. Procuring Abortion.
6. Housebreaking.
7. Larceny (of property exceeding $25 in value).
8. Bribery.
9. Perjury.
10. Forgery.
11. Embezzlement.
12. Arson.
13. Bigamy.
14. Wilful Destruction to Property exceeding $100 in value.

338. The punishments for treason and for felony shall be ^{Punishment for treason and felonie} classed as follows:—

1. Treason—Capital punishment with confiscation.
2. Felony—

(a) Wilful Murder. Capital punishment without confiscation.

(b) Felonies other than Murder. Any person who shall be sentenced to two years' imprisonment or more for felony shall not forfeit his property but shall be deprived of his rights as a citizen and cannot hold an appointment in the Public Service nor a position of remuneration or honour nor vote for the Representatives to the Legislative Assembly nor serve on a jury unless pardoned by the King and restored to his rights as a citizen.

Misdemeanours.

339. A misdemeanour is an offence against the law not amounting to a felony nor being a tort but for which the punishment is imprisonment with or without a fine or fine only without loss of the rights of citizenship.

Definition of crime.

340. A crime is a violation of law which affects the welfare of the community; a tort is an infringement of the private rights of individuals.

Chief Justice may veto laws.

341. It shall be lawful for the Chief Justice to suspend the operation of any law passed by the Legislative Assembly or Privy Council which shall be in contravention of the Constitution until the next meeting of the Legislative Assembly.

CHAPTER VII.

CRIMINAL CODE.

OFFENCES AGAINST THE STATE.

TREASON AND SEDITION.

Definition of treason.

342. Whoever shall levy war or attempt to levy war against the King or the King's Government or attempt to or persuade any Tongan subject to depose or assassinate the King or join in a rebellion against him or attempt to assassinate the heir to the throne shall be guilty of treason.

One witness insufficient.

343. No person shall be found guilty of treason but on the evidence of two or more persons unless he shall confess his guilt when charged in open Court.

Penalty.

344. Whoever shall be found guilty of treason shall suffer death by hanging or penal servitude for life and his property shall be forfeit to the State.

(Supreme Court and Jury.)

Penalty for accessory before act.

345. Whoever being aware of a design to commit treason shall fail to give information to the Minister of Police or the Governor of the district shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than one (1) year and not exceeding ten (10) years.

(Supreme Court and Jury.)

Foreigners amenable.

346. Foreigners residing in Tonga shall be liable to the penalties herein provided subject to the conditions of any Treaty with any Foreign State.

347. Whoever shall slander or libel the King shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than one (1) year and not exceeding ten (10) years. Slandering the King.

(Supreme Court and Jury.)

348. Whoever shall incite any person to resist or break any law of the Kingdom or to refrain from paying the taxes imposed by law shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than one (1) year and not exceeding five (5) years. Inciting to sedition.

(Supreme Court and Jury.)

349. Whoever shall write or say anything or circulate any paper or report with the design of inducing any person to resist the lawful authority of the King's Government shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than one (1) year and not exceeding ten (10) years. Seditious reports.

(Supreme Court and Jury.)

EXPLANATION.—The offences contained in this chapter can only be tried before a Justice and jury. Subjects of States in treaty relations with Tonga cannot be tried for felony before a Tongan Court, but are amenable to the jurisdiction of the Consular Court on the complaint of the Tongan Government.

2. Justices and Magistrates should note that the words "not exceeding ten years" imply that the Judge may inflict any term of imprisonment within the limit of ten years.

CHAPTER VIII.

OFFENCES AGAINST THE PUBLIC PEACE.

350. Should five (5) or more persons assemble in any place to conspire together to break any law or to resist the lawful authority of the Government it shall be lawful for the Minister of Police or any Governor or Assistant Governor or Mayor to command such assembly to disperse and each person to return to his own home and any person who shall fail to obey immediately the order to disperse may be forthwith arrested by the police and kept in custody until the next sitting of the Court and shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than one (1) day and not exceeding three (3) months. Unlawful assemblies.

(Police Court. Police to prosecute.)

351. Whoever shall obstruct threaten or assault any public servant while discharging his duty in endeavouring to disperse an unlawful assembly shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for not exceeding two (2) years as the Court may decide. Obstructing public servant.

(Police Court. Police to prosecute.)

SEDITIONOUS PAPERS.

352. Should any Officer of Customs believe that any package contains papers designed to disturb the public peace it shall be lawful for him to open such package and to deliver to the Premier any such papers that he may find. The Premier shall lay the papers before the Cabinet and if they shall appear to the Cabinet to be papers designed to disturb the public peace it shall be lawful to destroy them. Seditious papers to be destroyed.

Government
excepted.

353. Nothing in the last preceding section shall be applied to any paper printed by the authority of any Foreign State.

Seizure of seditious paper.

354. Any Officer of Police who shall have reason to believe that any papers designed to disturb the public peace are concealed in any house or premises he may make an affidavit before a Police Magistrate describing the house or premises in which he believes such paper to be concealed and the Magistrate shall forthwith issue a search warrant and such Officer of Police may search such house or premises and deliver any such papers that he may find to the Premier who shall read them to the Cabinet in the manner laid down in Section 352. (See Search Warrant Section 302.)

importing.

355. Whoever shall knowingly import or distribute or receive any paper designed to disturb the public peace shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) or be imprisoned with hard labour for not exceeding six months in default of payment.

(Police Court.)

EXPLANATION.—The burden of proof that he did not know the nature of the papers will rest with the accused.

Fighting in public place.

356. Should two or more persons fight in a public place they shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than one dollar ($1) and not exceeding fifty dollars ($50) or to imprisonment for not exceeding three months in default of payment or to imprisonment with hard labour for not less than one month and not exceeding three months without the option of a fine as the Court may decide.

(Police Court. Police to prosecute.)

EXPLANATION.—This section does not refer to fighting in a private house or room. Public place includes a Government building, or public house, and any premises or enclosure in the town or country to which the public can have access, or can be seen from a road.

NOTE.—All offenders against the provisions of this chapter must be prosecuted by the Minister, or an Officer of Police, and no Court fees are payable.

CHAPTER IX.

OFFENCES BY OR RELATING TO PUBLIC SERVANTS.

Accepting bribe.

357. Whoever being a Public Servant shall accept or attempt to accept any gratification whatever as a motive for doing or abstaining from doing any official act or for showing favour or disfavour to any person shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than one year and not exceeding three years as the Court may decide.

(Supreme Court and Jury.)

EXPLANATION.—1. The gratification need not necessarily be money, but may be any kind of service that would put the Public Servant under an obligation to the person rendering it.

2. The Public Servant may not have intended to do or forbear to do the official act. It is sufficient that he tried to obtain the reward.

Offering bribe.

358. Whoever shall offer any gratification whatever to any Public Servant as a motive to induce him to show favour or disfavour to any person shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than one (1) month and not exceeding three (3) years.

(Supreme Court and Jury.)

MISAPPROPRIATION BY PUBLIC SERVANT.

359. Whoever being a Public Servant shall appropriate to his own use any money or property entrusted to him in his official capacity whether such money or property belong to the Government or to any private person shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than one (1) year and not exceeding seven (7) years.

Embezzlement by public servant.

(Supreme Court and Jury.)

EXPLANATION.—It must be proved that the accused received the money or property, and that he did not pay it to the proper recipient. But this section will not apply if the property was accidentally destroyed by fire, shipwreck, or other accident, while in charge of a Public Servant. The intention to defraud must be shown.

360. Whoever being a Public Servant shall sell or give to any person not lawfully authorized to receive it any money or property entrusted to him in his official capacity shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than one year and not exceeding three years.

Misappropriation for others.

(Supreme Court and Jury.)

EXPLANATION.—A was employed by the Government to receive and weigh the taxed copra. He weighed B's copra, and then allowed him to remove one bag from the shed. A would be liable under this section.

361. Whoever being a Public Servant shall give a false receipt to any person pretending that he has received on behalf of the Government from such person money or property which he has not received shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than one year and not exceeding five years.

Giving false receipt.

(Supreme Court and Jury.)

EXPLANATION.—A, a Tax Collector, gave B, who was his brother, a receipt for his taxes, though B had not paid them in full. A would be liable under this section.

362. Any Public Servant who shall be convicted of misappropriating property entrusted to him in his official capacity shall forfeit any salary that may be due to him at the time of his conviction and be dismissed from his office.

Offender to forfeit salary due.

OBSTRUCTING PUBLIC SERVANTS.

363. Whoever shall intentionally obstruct any Public Servant in the lawful exercise of his duty by limiting his freedom of action shall on conviction be liable to a fine of one dollar ($1) and not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) or to imprisonment with hard labour for not less than four days and not exceeding six months in default of payment.

Confining public officer.

(Police Court. Public Servant obstructed to prosecute.)

EXPLANATION.—1. A purposely locked up B, a policeman, in his office, and thereby prevented him from serving a summons upon E. A would be liable under this section.

2. A caught hold of B, a policeman, so as to allow E, a prisoner, to escape. A would be liable under this section.

NOTE.—It must be proved that the Public Servant was actually prevented from performing some duty at the proper time.

364. Whoever shall offer any forcible resistance to a Public Servant while lawfully taking possession of any kind of property knowing him to be a Public Servant shall on conviction be liable to a fine of from one dollar ($1) to not exceeding one hundred dollars

Resisting public officer.

($100) and shall be imprisoned for not less than four days and not exceeding three months in default of payment.

(Police Court. Person obstructed to prosecute.)

EXPLANATION.—B, a policeman, proceeded to A's house to execute a warrant of distress. A forcibly resisted the removal of his effects from the house. A would be liable under this section. (See Section 220.)

Unlawful concealment of property.

365. Whoever shall use fraud or concealment to prevent a Public Servant from taking any property which he is lawfully authorized to take shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than one dollar ($1) and not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25) or to imprisonment with hard labour for not less than four days and not exceeding three months in default of payment.

(Police Court.)

Neglecting to assist Police.

366. Whoever shall neglect to assist a Police Officer in lawfully arresting any person after having been called upon in the King's name to assist such officer shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than one dollar ($1) and not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) or to imprisonment with hard labour for not less than four days and not exceeding three months in default of payment.

(Police Court.)

INTIMIDATING PUBLIC SERVANTS.

Intimidating public servant.

367. Whoever shall use any threat to any person being a Public Servant whether verbal or in writing with the intention of inducing him to do or to abstain from doing any official act shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than one dollar ($1) and not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) or to imprisonment with hard labour for not exceeding two years in default of payment.

(Police Court. Police to prosecute.)

CHAPTER X.

OFFENCES RELATING TO THE HUMAN BODY.

CULPABLE HOMICIDE.

Wilful murder.

368. Whoever shall cause the death of any person by doing an act with the intention of causing such bodily injury as is likely to cause death shall on conviction be sentenced to death by hanging or to imprisonment with hard labour for life.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

ILLUSTRATION.—B poisons water, intending to kill A. E drinks the water and dies. B would be liable under this section, since he intended to cause death.

2. A shoots at a fowl, not knowing that B is behind a tree in a line with the fowl. The shots kill B. A would not be liable under this section, since he did not intend to cause death.

Manslaughter.

369. Whoever by doing an unlawful act shall cause the death of any person though not intending to cause death shall on conviction be imprisoned for not less than one year and not exceeding twenty years.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

ILLUSTRATION.—B struck A, who was seriously ill at the time. The blow hastened A's death. B would be liable under this section.

2. A and B were horse-racing within the town boundaries; A's horse ran over E and killed him. A and B would both be liable under this section, for though they did not intend to cause E's death, he lost his life owing to their unlawful act.

370. Whoever by neglect shall cause the death of any person although without intention shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than one year and not exceeding seven years. Culpable neglect.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

ILLUSTRATION.—A prescribed remedies for B, and made him take a dangerous drug, being ignorant of its properties. B died. A would be liable under this section.

2. A removed to another village, leaving B. his wife, dangerously ill and without food. B died from want of proper food and attention. A would be liable under this section.

371. Notwithstanding the three last preceding sections whoever shall cause the death of any person without premeditation while defending himself from an attack or under grave unlawful provocation or in a sudden fight in the heat of passion shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not exceeding fourteen years. Homicide with provocation.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

EXPLANATION.—The Justice and Jury must consider how great the provocation really was. The greater the provocation, the less ought the punishment to be.

2. A tries to horsewhip B: B. to defend himself, takes up a loaded gun and shoots A. B would not be sentenced to death, but would be liable under this section.

3. A, a policeman, lawfully arrests B. B, excited to violent anger by the arrest, kills A. B would be liable to the death penalty, because the provocation was given by a Public Servant in the lawful exercise of his duty.

372. Whoever shall attempt to cause his own death shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for six months. Attempted suicide.

(Police Court.)

PROCURING ABORTION.

373. Whoever shall give any drug to or commit any act upon a woman with the intention of causing her to miscarry shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one year and not exceeding ten years. Procuring abortion.

(Supreme Court, with Jury.)

374. Should any woman procure her own miscarriage or take any drug with the intention of procuring her miscarriage although miscarriage may not have resulted she shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one year and not exceeding five years. Penalty for woman procuring abortion.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

EXPLANATION.—It is immaterial whether miscarriage resulted or not. It is sufficient that the woman intended to procure miscarriage.

375. Should any woman give birth to a child and conceal the fact of the birth whether the child was born living or dead or whether it was legitimate or not she shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one month and not exceeding two years. Concealment of birth.

(Police Court.)

376. Whoever shall commit any act upon a woman with the intention of causing her to miscarry and shall thereby cause the death of such woman shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one year and not exceeding twenty years. (Compare Section 369.) Penalty if death ensues.

RAPE AND UNNATURAL OFFENCES.

Rape

377. Whoever shall commit rape upon any female shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than ten years and not exceeding twenty years.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

Rape defined.

378. The following offences shall be held to constitute rape:—

1. Carnal intercourse with a female by force.
2. Carnal intercourse with a female without her consent (that is while she is asleep or intoxicated or otherwise unconscious).
3. Carnal intercourse with a female while she is in fear of death or serious injury unless she consent.
4. Carnal intercourse with a female with her consent given in the belief that the perpetrator is her husband.
5. Carnal intercourse with a female less than ten years of age.

Intercourse with wife not rape.

379. Whoever shall have carnal intercourse by force with a female to whom he has been lawfully married shall not be deemed to have committed rape.

Attempted rape.

380. Whoever shall attempt to have carnal intercourse with any female less than ten years of age shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one year and not exceeding seven years.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

Criminal outrage defined.

381. Criminal outrage (tookî) shall be defined as carnal intercourse with a female by force without her consent by more than one person and criminal outrage upon a female less than ten years of age shall be held to have been committed without her consent.

Penalty.

382. Whoever shall participate in the commission of a criminal outrage upon a female shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for life.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

Penalty if female consents.

383. Should any persons combine in committing a criminal outrage upon a female and such female consent to the commission of the outrage both the persons who committed the outrage and the female who consented shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one year and not exceeding seven years.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

Abduction.

384. Whoever shall abduct any female against her will with the intention of marrying her or of seducing her shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one year and not exceeding seven years.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

Woman's evidence must be corroborated.

385. The evidence of any female alleged to have been forcibly outraged or abducted shall be admissible: Provided that no person shall be convicted of such offence upon the sole testimony of such female without corroborative evidence.

UNNATURAL OFFENCES.

386. Whoever shall have carnal intercourse with his grand-mother mother aunt sister daughter or niece shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for life. Incest.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

387. Should any female have carnal intercourse with her grandfather father uncle brother son or nephew she shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for life. Incest.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

388. Whoever shall commit sodomy with any male person shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for life. Sodomy.

EXPLANATION.—Should the person on whom the offence was committed be a boy of less than ten years of age, the act shall be held to have been done without his consent, but above that age he would be liable to the penalty of this section.

389. Whoever shall have carnal intercourse with any beast shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for life and such beast shall be killed by a Public Officer. Bestiality.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

GRIEVOUS HURT.

390. The following injuries shall be held to constitute Grievous Hurt:— Grievous hurt defined.

1. Permanent privation of the use of eye or ear.
2. Permanent impairing of a member or joint.
3. Fracture of a bone.
4. Permanent disfiguration of the head or face.
5. Injury which endangers life or which prevents the injured person from following his pursuits for twenty days.

391. Whoever shall wilfully cause grievous hurt to any person by means of any instrument for shooting stabbing or cutting or any instrument likely to cause death or any poison shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one month and not exceeding ten years and shall pay to the injured person damages to the amount assessed by the Jury to be levied by distress. Grievous hurt with intent.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

392. Whoever shall do any act with malicious intent and thereby cause bodily injury to any person shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than one dollar ($1) and not exceeding two hundred dollars ($200) or to imprisonment with hard labour for any term not less than one month and not exceeding twelve months. Malicious injury.

EXPLANATION.—It must be proved that the act was committed with malicious intention. If the injury was accidental, and resulted from an act done without the knowledge that injury would be caused, the accused must be acquitted.

ILLUSTRATION.—A tethered his horse in the road at night, and B, riding in the dark, was thrown from his horse by the tether rope and injured. A would be liable to not exceeding half the penalty under this Section, for though he did not intend to injure B, yet he was breaking the law in tethering his horse in the road, and B's injuries resulted from A's breach of law. (Compare Section 301.)

2. A dug a hole upon his premises to plant a house-post, and B fell into the hole in the dark and was injured. A would not be liable under this Section, for he did not intend to injure B, and he was infringing no law in digging the hole, but B might sue A in the Civil Court for damages.

Unlawful use of drugs.

393. Whoever shall cause another to take any stupefying or unwholesome drug with intent to cause hurt or with intent to commit any offence shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one month and not exceeding ten years.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

ILLUSTRATION.—A made B intoxicated in order to have carnal intercourse with her, but did not accomplish his purpose. A would be liable under this Section. If he had had sexual intercourse with B while she was intoxicated, he would have been guilty of rape under Section 378.

Robbery with violence.

394. Whoever shall assault any person with the intention of stealing anything from him shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than two years and not exceeding five years and may in addition be sentenced to a whipping of not exceeding twenty-five lashes at the discretion of the Court.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

Assault by tolo.

395. Whoever shall commit tolo with the intention of injuring another whether he injures any person or not shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one month and not exceeding two years and may in addition be sentenced to a whipping of not exceeding twenty-five lashes at the discretion of the Court.

(Police Court.)

UNLAWFUL RESTRAINT.

Wrongful restraint.

396. Whoever shall unlawfully seize or obstruct any person shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than one dollar ($1) and not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25) or be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than four days and not exceeding three months in default of payment.

(Police Court.)

EXPLANATION.—The following are examples of unlawful restraint:—

1. To stop a horse or carriage or boat on which another is travelling.
2. To lock up another in a house or room.
3. To threaten another with violence if he proceeds on his way.
4. To push or hustle another off a path.
5. To fasten a door or gate through which another has to pass.

PETTY ASSAULT.

Petty assault.

397. Whoever shall do to another any of the acts herein specified in anger or in malice and without grave provocation shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than one shilling (1/-) and not exceeding fifty dollars ($50) or to imprisonment with or without hard labour for not less than one month and not exceeding three months.

1. Striking with the hand.
2. Assaulting so as to draw blood.
3. Spitting on or throwing liquid on another.

4. Setting a dog on another.
5. Pushing another.
6. Seizing or tearing the clothes of another.

(Police Court. Injured party to prosecute. Fees payable.)

EXPLANATION.—The Court must take into consideration the provocation given to the defendant. Grave provocation should mitigate the penalty. If the accused committed the act in defending himself from an assault, he should be acquitted, but this would not apply to the case of an assault upon a Public Officer lawfully exercising his duty in effecting an arrest or executing a warrant to distrain, or a similar duty.

398. Whoever shall make any gesture or preparation to commit an assault shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than one shilling (1/-) and not exceeding fifteen dollars ($15) or be imprisoned with or without hard labour for any term not less than one day and not exceeding one month in default of payment.

Threatened assault.

(Police Court. Injured party to prosecute.)

399. Whoever shall do any act to outrage the modesty of any female shall on conviction be imprisoned with or without hard labour for any term not less than one month and not exceeding six months.

Indecent gestures, etc.

(Police Court. Injured woman to prosecute. Fees payable.)

ABDUCTION.

400. Whoever shall entice any boy or girl less than sixteen (16) years of age to leave the custody of his or her parents or guardian without the consent of such parents or guardian shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than one dollar ($1) and not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) or be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than one day and not exceeding six months in default of payment.

Abduction of minor.

(Police Court. Guardian to prosecute. Fees payable.)

EXPLANATION.—The word "guardian" means the person who should have the custody of the child by law, or some person properly appointed by the lawful guardian to have custody of the child.

401. Whoever shall entice any married woman to desert her husband shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10) and not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) or be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than one month and not exceeding six months.

Abduction of married woman.

(Police Court. Husband to prosecute. Fees payable.)

CHAPTER XI.

OFFENCES RELATING TO PROPERTY.

LARCENY.

Definition of theft.

402. Theft is defined as the taking any moveable property dishonestly from the possession of its owner.

EXPLANATION.—It is not theft to take a thing one believes bona fide to be one's own, nor can one commit theft without moving the property.

1. A sold a house, honestly believing it to be his own, but the house in reality belonged to B. A cannot be sued for theft; he did not remove the house, but B might sue A in the Civil Court to recover possession of his house, or its equivalent in money.

2. A bought some growing yams from B, which really belonged to E. A was not guilty of theft, but B would be liable for obtaining money under false pretences. But if A had known that the yams did not belong to B, and they two had removed the yams, they would both have been guilty of theft. (Compare Section 299.)

Penalty for theft.

403. Whoever shall commit theft shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for a term in proportion to the value of the property stolen as follows:—

1. For theft of property one hundred dollars ($100) in value or more imprisonment with hard labour for not less than two years and not exceeding seven years.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

2. For theft of property less than one hundred dollars ($100) and more than twenty-five dollars ($25) in value imprisonment with hard labour for not less than one year and not exceeding three years.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

3. For theft of property twenty-five dollars ($25) in value or less imprisonment with hard labour for not less than one month and not exceeding six months: Provided that this Section shall not apply to theft of tether ropes.

(Police Court. Police to prosecute. No fees payable.)

Habitual thief may be whipped.

404. Should any male person be twice convicted of theft it shall be lawful for the Court to order him to receive a whipping of not exceeding twenty-five lashes provided that such person shall undergo the full term of imprisonment to which he was sentenced for theft notwithstanding the whipping inflicted.

Taking property without leave is theft.

405. Whoever shall take anything belonging to his relation without the permission of its owner according to the native custom or shall obtain goods from any store and have them charged to his relation without the consent of such relation shall on conviction be liable to the penalty provided for theft.

406. Whoever shall steal any rope with which any animal is tethered shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not exceeding twelve months.

Theft of tether ropes.

(Police Court.)

407. Should any person be convicted of theft the Court may order him to pay to the owner of the stolen property its equivalent in money to be recovered by distress. Provided that the owner of such stolen property shall first make affidavit before a Magistrate setting forth the stolen articles in detail and the price paid for each article. But should any stolen property be recovered it shall be returned to its rightful owner upon the production of proof of ownership.

Thief to pay value of stolen goods.

408. Should any stolen property be found in the possession of any person whether he bought it or had it given to him he shall return the same to the owner of such property but the owner of the property shall make oath before a Magistrate and describe in detail the quality and amount of the goods stolen and their value and produce a witness to support his statement.

Recovery of stolen property.

409. The Magistrate shall take such statements down in writing and if he decide that the statement be correct he shall at once issue a warrant and give the same to an Officer of Police and the owner of the goods who shall present the same to the person who is in possession of the stolen property and order him to give up the goods to the proper owner.

Warrant for stolen property.

410. If any person keeps any property knowing it to be stolen he will be punished the same as a person having committed a theft.

Keeping stolen property.

HOUSE-BREAKING.

411. Whoever shall break into any house the property of another by breaking or undoing any lock or fastening or by breaking through a wall or floor with intent to commit theft or any felony whether he commits any felony or not shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one year and not exceeding four years.

House-breaking.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

EXPLANATION.—To constitute the offence of house-breaking, some fastening must have been broken or untied. To enter a house by a door of hanging cocoanut leaves, or an unlocked door, is not house-breaking, but trespass. But to unfasten a cocoanut leaf door which has been tied down, or to unlock a door with a key, or to unlatch a window, would be house-breaking.

EXTORTION.

412. Whoever shall use any threat towards another with the intention of inducing such person through fear to deliver to him any money or property shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for not less than three months and not exceeding three years.

Extorting money.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

ILLUSTRATION.—A attempts to borrow money from B, and, on being refused, threatens to accuse B of adultery. A would be liable under this Section.

Lost property,
how dealt with.

413. Whoever shall find any lost property shall if he knows who is the owner of such property at once deliver it to such owner but if the owner be unknown he shall deliver such property to the Mayor of the village in which he resides and the Mayor shall cause such property to be proclaimed by the crier and at the expiration of fourteen days from the date such property was proclaimed if the owner be not known it shall become the property of the person who found it.

Finder to receive one-fourth of value.

414. Should any person produce proof that any lost property belongs to him he shall pay to the finder of such property one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) of its value.

Penalty for concealing
lost property

415. Whoever shall conceal any property which he has found in the bush or any place or infringe any of the provisions of Section 413 shall on conviction be liable to a fine of five dollars ($5) or be imprisoned with or without hard labour for one month in default of payment.

(Police Court.)

ARSON.

Arson.

416. Whoever shall wilfully set fire to any building or vessel or receptacle for property or provisions shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than six months and not exceeding ten years: and the Court may further order him to pay to the owner a sum equivalent to the value of the property destroyed to be levied by distress.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

Attempted
arson.

417. Whoever shall attempt to set fire to any building or vessel or stack or receptacle for property shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one month and not exceeding ten years.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

Bush fires.

418. Whoever shall by negligence or design set fire to any plantation or bush by which cocoanuts fruit trees or cultivated plants are damaged shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one day and not exceeding one year and shall pay to the owner of the property destroyed a sum equivalent to its value as assessed by the Court to be levied by distress.

(Police Court. Owner of destroyed property to prosecute.)

Bush fires
negligence.

419. Should any person send a child to fetch a fire brand in a village or in the bush and should any property be destroyed by fire arising from sparks carelessly dropped by such child such person shall pay to the owner a sum equivalent to the value of the property so destroyed as assessed by the Court to be levied by distress.

(Police Court. Civil Jurisdiction.)

CRIMINAL MISAPPROPRIATION.

Embezzlement by clerk.

420. Whoever being a clerk or servant entrusted with money or property who shall dishonestly convert to his own use such money or property shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one year and not exceeding five years but this section shall not apply to public servants.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

421. Whoever being employed by another as agent and being entrusted with money or property who shall dishonestly convert to his own use such money or property or who shall dishonestly use his employer's name to obtain goods from any store without being authorised by his employer shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than six months and not exceeding five years.

Embezzlement by agent.

(Supreme Court with Jury.)

ILLUSTRATION.—A is employed by B, a European, to bring dally supplies from a certain store. A obtains 10lbs. of sugar, telling the storekeeper to charge it to B, and appropriates 5lbs. for himself. A would be liable under this Section.

2. A, an agent, undertakes to sell B's copra abroad, and receives forty dollars as the proceeds of the copra. He gives B only thirty dollars, assuring him that this was all he received. A would be liable under this Section.

CHEATING.

422. Whoever shall dishonestly obtain from another any property or money by a false representation shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one month and not exceeding two years provided that nothing in this section shall apply to goods supplied by a European to a native on credit.

Cheating.

(Police Court. Person cheated to prosecute.)

EXPLANATION.—It is provided in Section 271 that no European can sue a Tongan for debt, and that if a European supplies goods to a Tongan on credit the Courts will not assist him to recover the debt.

2. A, a native, applies to B, a European, for a tin of biscuits, falsely stating that he is sent by E, and B gives him the biscuits out of friendship for E. A would be liable under this Section for dishonesty, whether E was a native or European.

3. A, a native, brings a bag of copra to B, a European, for sale, stating that he has at home five bags of copra of the same quality as the sample bag. B pays him for six bags, but when the remaining five bags are brought they are found to contain worthless copra, the sample bag being alone of good quality. A would be liable under this Section.

4. A, a native, applies to B, a native, for four dollars ($4), falsely promising to bring B a pig. A would be liable under this Section.

5. If A had possessed the pig, and had really intended to give it to B at the time, but had afterwards changed his mind, A would not be guilty of cheating; but B might sue A before the Civil Court for breach of agreement, and recover the four dollars and costs.

423. Whoever shall obtain from another any property money or document by falsely representing himself to be the person entitled to receive such property money or document shall on conviction be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one month and not exceeding two years.

Cheating by impersonation.

(Police Court.)

ILLUSTRATION.—A, a woman, falsely represents herself to be B's wife, and E, believing her, gives her money which he owes to B. A would be liable under this Section.

424. Whoever shall adulterate any food or produce with any foreign substance so as to increase the weight of such food or produce shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than one dollar ($1) and not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) or be imprisoned with or without hard labour for any term not less than one day and not exceeding two years in default of payment.

Adulteration of food, etc.

(Police Court. Injured person to prosecute.)

ILLUSTRATION.—A put a stone into a bag of copra to increase its weight. He would be liable under this Section.

2. A put water into a bottle of milk, and sold it to B as pure milk. A would be liable under this Section.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

False weights.

425. Whoever shall fraudulently use any false weight or balance or false measure of length or capacity shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than one dollar ($1) and not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) or be imprisoned with or without hard labour for any term not less than seven days and not exceeding two years in default of payment.

(Police Court. Police to prosecute.)

426. Whoever shall have in his possession or care any false weight or measure intending to use such false weight or measure shall on conviction be liable to the penalty provided in the last proceeding Section.

(Police Court. Police to prosecute.)

Inspection of weights and measures.

427. The British standard weights and measures shall be the standard weights and measures of the Kingdom. The Minister of Police shall have power to appoint any person in writing to visit and inspect at any time all the weights and measures employed by merchants and Public Servants and whoever shall hinder such officer from inspecting any weight or measure shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not less than one dollar ($1) and not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25) or be imprisoned with or without hard labour for any term not less than four days and not exceeding one month.

(Police Court. Police to prosecute.)

DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY.

Penalty for wilful damage.

428. Whoever shall wilfully destroy or damage any property animal or plantation excepting by process of law shall on conviction pay to the owner the value of the property damaged as assessed by the Court and may be further imprisoned with hard labour for any term not less than one day and not exceeding seven years.

(Police Court. Owner of property to prosecute if the damage done is less than $100 in value, but if the damage exceeds $100 in value the case will be tried before Supreme Court with Jury.)

Accidental damage.

429. Whoever shall unintentionally damage or destroy any property animal or plantation may be sued before the Civil Court by the owner of such property animal or plantation and may be ordered by the Court to pay compensation to such owner together with the costs of the suit to be levied by distress.

(Police Court. Civil Jurisdiction.)

Destroying land-mark.

430. Whoever shall move or damage any land-mark fixed by a Public Servant by the authority of the Minister of Lands shall on conviction be imprisoned with or without hard labour for any term not less than one day and not exceeding one year.

(Police Court. Police to prosecute.)

ANIMALS.

CATTLE.

431. Should any horned cattle damage any property or plantation the owner of such cattle may be sued before the Civil Court and the Court may order him to pay to the owner of such property a sum equivalent to the value of the property destroyed to be levied by distress.

Cattle damaging property.

(Police Court.)

432. Should any cattle be at large and destroy any property or plantation the Inspector of Police of the district shall give notice to the owner of such cattle that he must enclose them forthwith within a fence or otherwise secure them and if the owner disregard such notice the Inspector of Police may prosecute him before the Police Court for disregarding the notice to fence or secure such cattle. (Section 433).

Cattle at large to be fenced.

(Police Court. Inspector of Police to prosecute.)

EXPLANATION.—The Inspector must produce evidence that the cattle are at large, and likely to destroy property or plantations.

433. Should it appear to the satisfaction of the Magistrate that the cattle are at large and likely to destroy plantations or property he may make an order against the owner of such cattle to fence or secure the cattle as follows:—

Court to issue fencing order

ORDER TO FENCE CATTLE.

To _____ of _____
Whereas it has been shown that certain cattle belonging to you are at large, I hereby require you to enclose such cattle within a fence, or otherwise secure them before the expiration of twenty-one days from the date of this order. If you fail to obey this order, such cattle will be at once destroyed.

Police Magistrate.

Date _____

434. At the expiration of twenty-one days from the issue of the fencing order if such cattle still remain at large the Magistrate shall make an order as provided in this Section and it shall thereafter be lawful for the Inspector of Police or his representative to destroy the cattle to which such order refers and before the expiration of two days he shall inform the owner of their destruction that such owner may have the disposal of the carcasses.

Destroying order.

ORDER TO DESTROY CATTLE.

To _____ Inspector of Police.
I hereby authorise you to destroy forthwith the cattle belonging to _____ of _____ in respect of which I have made an order to fence or secure, but which are still at large. You will forthwith destroy the said cattle, and inform the owner of their destruction.

Police Magistrate.

Date _____

CHAPTER XV.

OFFENCES RELATING TO PUBLIC HEALTH.

QUARANTINE.

Vessels from foreign ports.

468. In order to prevent the introduction of diseases into the Kingdom it shall be unlawful for any vessel coming from any place beyond the Kingdom to have any communication with the shore at any place in the Kingdom except by signal until she has been admitted to pratique and no vessel shall be admitted to pratique until the master of such vessel has signed the certificate and bond in accordance with Schedules A and E hereto.

469. Every vessel coming from any place beyond the Kingdom shall hoist a yellow flag by day and a green light by night at the foremast or only mast-head and continue to hoist such flag or light until the vessel shall be admitted to pratique. Any master violating this provision shall on conviction be imprisoned for any term not exceeding six months or fined in a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) as shall be decided by the Court.

Penalty.

Vessel not admitted to pratique must not
cate.

470. It shall not be lawful for any vessel that has not been admitted to pratique to approach within one hundred (100) yards of any other vessel or for any person to leave such vessel and go on shore or to any other vessel or transmit any article therefrom or for any boat or vessel or person excepting the Pilot or Health Officer to approach within one hundred (100) yards of a vessel before such vessel shall have been admitted to pratique and any person violating the provisions of this section shall on conviction be imprisoned for any term of not exceeding three months or be fined in the sum of not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) as shall be decided by the Court. Penalty.

471. The Pilot shall approach the vessel on the windward side and within speaking distance but he shall not go on board should he have reason to suppose there is an infectious or contagious disease on board except he have reason to believe such vessel to be in danger unless he board her. In such case it shall be lawful for him to board but he must remain on board until such vessel is admitted to pratique. Duties of Pilot

472. The Health Officer shall approach the vessel on the windward side and within speaking distance but he shall not go on board until the Master of such vessel shall have signed and delivered to him the certificate (Schedule A) and it shall then be lawful for him to admit such vessel to pratique. Duties of Health Officer.

473. But should the Health Officer not go on board at once and should the Master or Pilot be certain there is no infectious or contagious disease on board it shall be lawful for the vessel to enter the harbour and anchor. But it shall not be lawful for such vessel to have any communication with the shore or with any other vessel in accordance with this chapter until admitted to pratique by the Health Officer. If Health Officer delays ship may anchor.

474. The refusal of any master to sign the certificate shall be considered sufficient evidence that a contagious or infectious disease exists on board and it shall be lawful for the Pilot or Health Officer to command such vessel to go to the Quarantine Station reporting the case to the authorities of that district. Master refusing to sign papers.

475. Notice is hereby given that all vessels arriving in Tonga from foreign ports shall hold a clean Bill of Health from the proper officials of the port of departure. If they do not they shall at once proceed to the Quarantine Station. Bill of Health.

476. Should the master or surgeon of any vessel make a false declaration he shall on conviction be imprisoned for a term of not exceeding twelve months or be fined in a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) as may be decided by the Court. False declarations.

477. Should any Pilot or Health Officer admit any vessel to pratique knowing there to be infectious or contagious disease on board he shall be punished in accordance with Section 476. Health Officer admitting contagious vessel to pratique.

478. Should any person on board any vessel refuse to answer or answer falsely the questions contained in Schedule A or such questions as may be put to him by the Pilot or Health Officer he shall on conviction be punished in accordance with Section 476. Refusing to answer questions.

479. Any vessel which is admitted to pratique shall at once haul down the yellow flag or green light and communication with such vessel shall then be free. Admission to pratique.

Officer may send vessel to quarantine.

480. Should it appear to the Pilot or the Health Officer from the answers given in reply to questions that such vessel ought not to be admitted to pratique it shall be lawful for him to command such vessel to proceed to the Quarantine Station.

(Police Court. Police to prosecute. No fees payable.)

MARRIAGE FEASTS.

presents.

649. This law does not prohibit presents being made to the relatives of the persons marrying but it shall be unlawful to distribute such property amongst the donors or any others. If presents of food are made it shall be lawful to collect the same in the abode of the married couple and they may prepare food in order to celebrate the happy event with the married couple for as many days as they may have arranged upon. Any food left shall be given to the married couple. Anyone committing a breach of this law shall on conviction be liable to a fine of five dollars ($5) to be recovered by levy and distress.

(Police Court. One of the married couple or relatives to prosecute. Fees payable.)

DIVORCE.

650. It shall be lawful for any Justice of the Supreme Court to grant a dissolution of marriage upon proof by sworn evidence of either of the following causes:—

1. Adultery of the respondent.
2. A former husband or wife of respondent still living.

(Supreme Court without Jury. Person applying for divorce to sue.)

651. No decree shall be granted if it shall appear that both the petitioner and respondent have committed adultery. Adultery by both parties.

652. No decree shall be granted if it shall appear that the petitioner has cohabited with respondent since the respondent committed adultery with full knowledge of such adultery. No divorce if adultery condoned.

653. No decree shall be granted upon the respondent's evidence of adultery without independent evidence in corroboration. Collusion.

654. No decree shall be pronounced if the petitioner shall have condoned the adultery of the respondent. Adultery pardoned.

EXPLANATION.—It is the duty of the Justice to exhort the parties to live together again. No decree shall be granted except upon the strongest grounds, for divorce should be discouraged.

655. If any man or woman be punished for the term of his natural life such man or woman shall be considered dead by the law and the husband or the wife of such man or woman shall be free and shall be free to marry again. Divorce upon imprisonment.

PROCEDURE IN SUITS FOR DIVORCE.

656. The procedure in suits for divorce shall conform to that laid down in Sections 257 to 273 inclusive. The evidence of both petitioner and respondent shall be given upon oath. Procedure.

657. It shall not be lawful to pronounce a decree of divorce upon a single hearing. At the first hearing the evidence shall be taken and the case adjourned for one month. At the end of one month both parties shall again appear and shall be asked whether they can again cohabit or not or whether the petitioner can condone the respondent's adultery or not and if it shall appear impossible to reconcile the parties and the petitioner's petition be proved it shall be lawful to pronounce a decree of divorce. Two hearings necessary.

658. In any case where the respondent has left the Kingdom and cannot be summoned as a witness it shall be lawful for the Justice upon proof being adduced by the petitioner of the grounds of his petition to pronounce a decree of divorce. But if the respondent be in any part of the Kingdom the Court records shall be sent to the Justice of the Supreme Court in the district in which he resides and such Justice shall cause the respondent to appear before him and shall take his evidence upon oath and transmit his sworn statement to the Justice before whom the petition was first heard who shall pronounce judgment upon the case. Provided that in the islands of Niuafoou and Niuatobutabu the Police Magistrate shall have power to take such evidence to transmit to the Justice of the Supreme Court. 659. Any person in respect of whom a decree of divorce has been pronounced shall be free to marry again.

660. Whenever a decree of divorce shall be pronounced each of the parties shall retain his own property.

661. The punishment for adultery shall be by a fine of not less than sixty dollars ($60) and not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) and in default of payment by imprisonment with hard labour for ten months and by payment to the injured party of a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) as the Court may decide and if not able to pay he shall work for the injured party.

(Police Court. Injured person or police to prosecute. Fees payable only in the former case.)

EXPLANATION.—The Magistrate must weigh the justice of ordering compensation to be paid to the injured person, for if he has deserted his wife, and so occasioned her adultery, he ought not to receive compensation.

662. Any married woman who shall commit adultery shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not exceeding sixty dollars ($60). Provided that it shall be lawful for the Minister of Police to commute such fine for a task of native manufacture to be completed by the woman at her own home within a specified time: And provided that if her husband shall pardon her and they again cohabit it shall be lawful to remit the punishment inflicted upon her.

FORNICATION.

663. Should any unmarried man commit fornication with an unmarried woman he shall on conviction pay to the near relations of such woman the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) or be imprisoned with hard labour for two months in default of payment.

(Police Court. Relations of the woman or Police to prosecute. No fees payable in the latter case.)

664. It shall not be lawful to inflict the punishment of hard labour upon any woman who is pregnant but only a task of native manufacture.

665. Any woman who shall commit fornication shall on conviction be sentenced to a task of native manufacture equivalent to any sum not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25) and any such woman who shall neglect to bring her appointed work to the Minister of Police within the time specified shall be imprisoned with hard labour for the remainder of her sentence at the rate of two shillings (2s.) for every day and the same alternative shall be adopted in the case of a woman sentenced to a task of native manufacture for adultery. (Compare Section 662).

666. Should any person convicted of fornication be willing to marry the woman with whom he was convicted and she consent they shall receive a remission of their punishment upon the day of their marriage.

667. Any person charged with fornication or adultery may give evidence upon oath in his defence and the Magistrate shall receive his evidence.

668. Any man who shall solicit any woman to have improper intercourse with him shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not exceeding twenty dollars ($20) or be imprisoned with hard labour for not exceeding fourteen days in default of payment.

(Police Court. Woman to prosecute. Fees payable.)

BASTARDS.

669. The mother of an illegitimate child shall support such child but she may sue the father of such child before the Police Court for maintenance and upon proof of paternity the Magistrate shall order the father to pay to the Inspector of Police the sum of two shillings (2s.) weekly to be paid to the mother for the support of the child and whoever shall disobey any such order for maintenance shall be guilty of contempt of Court and on conviction shall be liable to a fine of ten dollars ($10) to be levied by distress.

(Police Court. Mother of bastard to prosecute. Fees payable.)

EXPLANATION.—An illegitimate child of a European father and a Tongan mother is a Tongan subject, but a half-caste whose parents were lawfully married belongs to the nationality of its father.

(Supreme Court with Jury. Minister of Police to prosecute.)

673. Whoever shall defame the character of any Cabinet Minister or Noble or Governor or Magistrate or Representative of a Foreign Power or an ordained Minister shall be guilty of defamation of the first degree and shall on conviction be liable to a fine of one hundred and fifty dollars ($150) or less or be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not exceeding three years in default of payment.

(Supreme Court with Jury. Injured person to prosecute.)

674. Whoever shall defame the character of any person not occupying any of the positions detailed in Section 673 shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25) or be imprisoned with hard labour for any term not exceeding three months in default of payment.

(Police Court. Injured person to prosecute. Fees payable.)

Of deceased.

675. Whoever shall defame the character of any dead person shall be liable to the same punishment as if such person had been alive.

(Relations of dead person to prosecute. Fees payable.)

Privilege.

676. No person shall be convicted of defamation if the alleged slander was first uttered in a Court of Law or published in a newspaper.

EXPLANATION.—Any person charged with defamation who can prove that he only repeated a statement published in a newspaper shall be acquitted, but the person slandered may prosecute the publisher of the newspaper.

CHAPTER XXIII.

OF CONTRACTS.

Form of written contract.

677. Should any person agree to perform a service for or supply goods to another for which remuneration is agreed upon the persons so agreeing shall draw up a written agreement in duplicate in the Tongan language stating clearly:—(1) The nature of the service. (2) The remuneration. (3) The date the service is to be completed. (4) The date on which the payment is to be completed.

Magistrate to countersign.

678. Both persons shall sign such agreement in the presence of a Magistrate who shall then if he thinks the conditions can be fulfilled by both parties countersign and date such agreement and retain one copy delivering the other copy to the parties to the agreement.

Registration fee.

679. The fee for registering an agreement with a Magistrate shall be one shilling (1s.).

No action to lie for breach of unregistered contract.

680. It shall not be lawful to sue any person in any Court in the Kingdom for the breach of any agreement unless such agreement has been duly signed by a Magistrate.

Magistrate to have discretion.

681. It shall be lawful for any Magistrate to refuse to sign and register any agreement if the terms of such agreement shall seem to him to be in contravention of any existing law or if the agreement shall appear to him to be beyond the power of either of the parties to perform.

EXPLANATION.—A, a European, contracted to build a house for B, a native, for which B was to pay two hundred dollars within three months. If the Magistrate considers that B cannot raise that sum within three months, he may refuse to countersign the contract.

Purchase of vessels.

682. In the case of a contract to supply a vessel to natives proof shall be given to the satisfaction of the Magistrate that at least half the purchase money has been collected and is in the hands of a responsible person before he shall countersign the contract.

Breach of registered contract.

683. Should either party to an agreement countersigned by a Magistrate fail to perform his share of such agreement he may be sued in the Civil Court for breach of agreement and costs and should such breach of agreement consist in not completing work agreed upon the Magistrate may order him to pay to the plaintiff a sum sufficient to defray the cost of the completion of such work by another together with the costs of the suit.

EXPLANATION.—No goods or stores shall be landed, nor shall any covering of any goods be broken, except by permission of the Customs Officer. Anyone doing so shall be punished, and any goods landed, or attempted to be landed, shall be forfeited to the Government.

Entry inwards to be made within twenty-four hours.

763. The Master of any vessel arriving from beyond the Kingdom shall within twenty-four hours after arrival in any port of entry unless prevented by the operation of any quarantine law proceed to the Custom House and shall there produce for examination by the proper Officer unless previously transmitted thither the vessel's clearance from the last port of departure the shipping bills and stores list the certificate of registry the list of passengers on board and the manifest of the cargo of such vessel and also the bill of lading or a copy thereof for every part of the cargo on board the vessel's log-book and the crew's articles of agreement and shall subscribe a declaration or declarations and answer any reasonable question in respect of each or any of these matters or connected with the last voyage of the vessel on oath or otherwise.

EXPLANATION.—The Captain of the vessel shall proceed within 24 hours after dropping his anchor to the Customs, and present all documents relating to the vessel and cargo.

Officer may require dutiable goods to be properly secured.

764. If in the opinion of any Officer of Customs any hatchway door lid cover partition or any other article on any vessel containing dutiable goods is defective in any way in whole or in part and not adapted to afford sufficient security or protection to any dutiable goods on board such vessel the Officer aforesaid shall deliver to the Master of the vessel a note in writing requesting that any defect as hereinbefore mentioned be supplied and remedied within a time to be specified therein and if any reasonable request so made is not complied with within a reasonable time the Master aforesaid shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) nor less than one hundred dollars ($100) or in default to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months nor less than seven days.

EXPLANATION.—If any door or lid of a cabin be rotten, and should it appear to be unable to lock or seal the same, the Customs Officer shall at once order the same to be repaired and made good, and should the repairs be done in a dilatory way the Master of the vessel shall be punished.

765. Whenever any vessel shall be wrecked at any place within the Kingdom the Master thereof if landed in the Kingdom shall as soon as possible make a report of such vessel as far as practicable in accordance with the provisions of Section 763 hereof.

Master of wrecked vessel to report.

EXPLANATION.—Whenever any vessel shall be wrecked at any place within the Kingdom, the Master, or his representative, shall at once proceed to the Customs House and report matters concerning his arrival there.

766. Should any vessel arrive in any port of entry from beyond the Kingdom for orders and the proper Officer be satisfied that such vessel has arrived for orders only it shall be lawful to exempt such vessel from pilotage and light dues. Provided that it shall be unlawful for any vessel arriving for orders only to land any goods whatever or to load any goods excepting ship's stores not including spirits or tobacco.

Vessel arriving for orders.

EXPLANATION.—Should any vessel arrive from beyond the Kingdom to load copra in the Tongan Group, and should the Master of the vessel not know whether he is to load copra in Nukualofa or Vavau, he shall first anchor in Nukualofa, and receive his orders from the representative of the firm whom the copra belongs to.

. IMPORT ENTRIES FOR GOODS.

767. Forms to be called "Import Entries" shall be prepared according to a formula and of dimensions to be from time to time prescribed by the Premier and shall be adapted to meet (1) the transshipment of any dutiable goods coastwise (2) the transshipment of any dutiable goods foreign (3) the removal of any dutiable goods to a Government bonded warehouse for storage therein (4) the payment of duty on goods for home consumption (5) the removal from any vessel of any goods not liable to the payment of duty (6) the removal of any goods to a Custom House at the expense of the owner or consignee for inspection by a Customs Officer in the event of there being no invoice for such goods or when the Collector or other proper Officer of Customs is not satisfied with the invoice produced for such goods and any such entry when signed by the Collector or other chief Officer of Customs at any port shall be transmitted to the proper Officer and shall be his warrant for the delivery or reception of the goods mentioned therein as the case may be. Any Officer of Customs may refuse to receive or to pass any import entry until the vessel referred to in such import entry has been entered inwards as hereinbefore provided and unless such import entry is according to the prescribed formula or to the same effect and of the same dimensions and unless the required number of copies is produced and no goods shall be removed from the control of the Officers of Customs until the proper entry shall have been passed for such goods and permission granted by the proper Officer of Customs for such removal and any goods removed from any ship or from any Government bonded warehouse without such permission and unless the proper entry shall have been duly passed therefor shall be forfeited to the Crown.

Import entries of six kinds.

EXPLANATION.—This section shall apply to stoppage of removal of goods from the Customs before payment has been made and permission given by the Customs Officer for the removal of goods.

Import entries to be passed within forty-eight hours.

768. The owner of any goods shall fill up an import entry for any goods imported by any vessel for transshipment on board any other vessel or to be landed in the port where such vessel may be lying within twenty-four hours after such vessel has been reported by the Master thereof as hereinbefore provided if the amount of goods on board such vessel for the owner aforesaid is under fifty tons by weight or measurement and within forty-eight hours if the amount of such goods exceeds fifty tons but if the import entries for any goods aforesaid have not been presented at the Custom House of the port where the said vessel is lying within the above periods respectively then the Master or Agent of the vessel aforesaid may present the entries at the Custom House and it shall be lawful for the proper Officer to deal with such import entries as if they had been presented by the owner of such goods.

EXPLANATION.—This section limits the time for import entries, but if he to whom the goods belong delays, and should it appear to cause delay to the vessel in leaving, the Master of the vessel shall be permitted to make the import entries and land the goods forthwith, notwithstanding it is forbidden to land any goods on shore before passing entries for the same.

Bond for transshipment of dutiable

769. On passing an import entry for the transshipment of any dutiable goods coastwise the owner of such goods shall sign a bond which shall be in a form to be approved by the Premier in a sum not less than once the value of the goods to be transhipped as estimated by the proper Officer of Customs with twice the duty payable on such goods added thereto and the owner of such goods shall also find the personal security of one or more persons to be approved by the Chief Officer of Customs at any port that such goods will be duly transhipped to the vessel mentioned in the said bond and that they will be conveyed direct and intact to some port of entry in the Kingdom specified in such bond and that they will be duly reported to the Customs authorities there and an import entry passed for them as if they had arrived in that port direct from beyond the Kingdom.

EXPLANATION.—The nature of a Bond is an agreement to forfeit the money stated in the document by those who have signed it, if they do not do as they have agreed to—that is to say, duly land the goods in the port stated in the Bond, and not land the goods without paying the proper duties on the goods.

Bond for trans-
foreign.

770. On passing an entry for the transshipment of any dutiable goods foreign the owner of such goods with one or more persons to the satisfaction of the proper Officer of Customs shall enter into a bond which shall be in a form to be approved by the Premier and for a sum not less than once the value of the goods to be transhipped as estimated by the proper Officer of Customs with twice the duty payable on such goods added thereto that such goods will be removed direct to the vessel specified in such bond as about to export the said goods that the said vessel will proceed on her course from the port of entry where such goods are put on board such vessel out of the Kingdom without coming to anchor at any spot therein except at a port of entry and without any unnecessary delay and that such goods will not be removed from such vessel nor landed or transhipped at any place within the waters of the Kingdom except under the supervision and with the permission of the proper Officer of Customs but will be landed or transhipped at the ports or places mentioned in the bond aforesaid.

EXPLANATION.—If any goods are transhipped to go foreign, two persons shall sign a Bond and give security that those goods shall not be landed again in Tonga; and should they be improperly landed, those who signed the Bond shall forfeit the money named in the Bond.

771. On passing an import entry for the removal of any dutiable goods from any vessel to a Government bonded warehouse the owner of such goods shall enter into a bond in a form to be approved by the Premier in a sum not less than once the value of the goods concerned as estimated by the proper Officer of Customs with twice the duty payable on such goods added thereto that such goods will be conveyed direct and intact from the vessel importing them to the Government bonded warehouse specified in the bond aforesaid and duly lodged therein and that such goods will not be removed from the said Government bonded warehouse except as hereinafter provided and with the permission of an Officer of Customs.

Bond for removal of dutiable goods to bonded warehouse.

EXPLANATION.—If the goods are not properly entered in the Government Bonded Warehouse, the owner of the goods shall forfeit the money stated in the Bond.

772. When all particulars affecting any vessel shall have been made known to the proper Officer of Customs as provided in Section 763 hereof such Officer may then in special cases on the approval of the Premier grant a warrant in writing to the Officer of Customs on board of such vessel to permit the landing of any goods therefrom for which import entries have not been passed or on which Customs dues have not been paid and the storing of the same at the risk and expense of the owner of such goods or of the Master or the Agent of the vessel as may be agreed upon and in such place and in such manner and subject to such terms and conditions as may have been previously approved by the Premier.

Permit for landing goods before passing import entries.

EXPLANATION.—Should it appear to the Premier that any cargo is in danger whilst waiting for import entries, according to law, he may grant permission for landing any such goods before entry has been passed, but he shall first arrange for a house for the goods to be landed, and how they are to be looked after until duty has been paid, and then they shall be free.

773. Before any permit is granted as provided in the last preceding section for the landing of any goods from any vessel without previously passing import entries therefor or on which Customs dues have not been paid the owner of such goods or the Master or Agent of the vessel importing such goods shall enter into a bond in a form and for a sum to be approved by the Premier and with such other additional security for the payment of duties and other charges as may by the Premier be deemed necessary that the goods aforesaid shall under the supervision and control of the Officers of Customs be conveyed direct from such vessel to some place previously approved by and secured to the satisfaction of the Premier and specified in such bond and that the said goods shall remain there under the supervision and control of the Officers of Customs as aforesaid but at the risk and expense of such owner or of such Master or Agent and such other additional personal security as may have been demanded until import entries shall have been passed for the same as hereinbefore provided and that such import entries shall be passed and all dutiable goods removed from such place as aforesaid within a date to be specified in such bond which shall however not exceed fourteen days and that all goods whether dutiable or non-dutiable landed from any vessel as aforesaid shall until such entries are passed or until they are removed under proper authority to a Government bonded warehouse be kept intact and secure under lock and key in a separate store or compartment which shall contain no other goods than goods landed under a permit as provided in this Section.

EXPLANATION.—This section provides for taking proper care of any goods landed as per previous section, and the duty shall be paid before the expiration of 14 days; but the taking care of the goods shall be at the expense of the owner, and if any goods are damaged while being cared for in this way the Government shall not be responsible.

Removal of goods from
store.

774. When an import entry has not been passed for any dutiable goods or for any goods supposed by an Officer of Customs to be wholly or in part liable to the payment of duty landed as aforesaid into a receiving-shed within forty-eight hours after such landing such dutiable or supposed dutiable goods shall at the expense of the owner thereof be removed to a Government bonded warehouse where if import entries are not passed they shall be detained at the expense of the owner of such goods and shall be liable to all provisions of this Act affecting goods in bond until an import entry shall have been duly passed therefor save only that the amount of bond rent payable on such goods shall until the proper entry is passed for the same be three times that payable on goods received therein after the proper entries have been passed and on any goods not liable to the payment of duty and not removed from such receiving store within forty-eight hours there shall be paid by the owner for storage a sum three times greater than the authorised charges for the detention of goods in any Government bonded warehouse.

EXPLANATION.—The manner of landing goods is to land them first in a Government warehouse for 48 hours, so that the owner of the goods may pass import entries, and after that time the goods shall be removed to a Government Bonded Warehouse, and daily payment shall be made for storage of the goods as may be decided by the Premier; but the payment shall be trebled. This is to stop persons from being dilatory in passing import entries, and the Government charge them for taking care of their goods.

The landing of passengers'
luggage.

775. The Premier shall from time to time determine what articles and what quantity of such articles liable to duty under any law now in force or that hereafter may be in force in the Kingdom shall when introduced into the Kingdom as passengers' luggage be exempt from the payment of duty and for all such articles exceeding the quantity so allowed there shall before such articles are removed from any vessel be passed an import entry and duty paid thereon by the owner of such articles in the manner hereinbefore provided or a bond entry shall be passed for such articles and the same deposited in a Government bonded warehouse as hereinbefore provided and any neglect or refusal to pass such import or such bond entry as aforesaid shall render the person importing any such article into the Kingdom or in whose possession the same may be found by any Officer of Customs liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred and twenty-five dollars ($125) nor less than five dollars ($5) and in default of payment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one month nor less than two days and any such articles so found as aforesaid shall be forfeited to the Crown.

EXPLANATION.—Luggage shall mean boxes of clothing and dress articles brought by anyone who travels sufficient for himself, but if anyone brings any other goods or luggage appearing to be excessive, and as things to be sold in Tonga, they shall pay duty as dutiable goods.

GOVERNMENT BONDED WAREHOUSES.

776. It shall be lawful for the Premier by notification in the Gazette to appoint at any port of entry any building to be a Government bonded warehouse for the reception and securing of any dutiable goods and for the receiving storing and delivering of such goods there shall be paid before such goods are removed by the owner thereof from such Government bonded warehouse such fees as the Premier with consent of the Privy Council may from time to time determine together with all duties or other charges leviable on the same under any Act in force at the time of such removal.

Premier may appoint Government bonded warehouse.

777. It shall be lawful for any Customs officer in charge of any Government bonded warehouse to refuse to admit any goods for storage therein if he considers that such goods cannot be placed there without causing damage either to the building itself or to any other goods therein or likely to be received therein. If any goods as aforesaid are left at or near to any Custom House wharf or Government bonded warehouse after any Officer of Customs has refused to receive such goods into any Government bonded warehouse and if on the request of the said officer to the person bringing the said goods to or near to such Custom House wharf or Government bonded warehouse such goods are not removed within a time specified by the Officer of Customs aforesaid and duty paid thereon before such removal it shall be lawful for such officer to cause such goods to be sold and from the proceeds of the sale thereof to deduct any duty or any other charges payable to the Crown on account of such goods, and if the goods as aforesaid cannot be sold such officer may cause them to be destroyed and no claim shall lie against such or any other officer or against the Crown on account of such destruction or on account of any damage arising from the loss or exposure of any such goods.

Dangerous goods may not be received in Government bonded warehouse.

EXPLANATION.—This section provides for stopping goods, lest any dangerous goods such as powder or acids, or anything of a like nature, be entered in the bonded store; and if such are not removed from the wharf to a distance it shall be lawful to throw into the sea any goods that may be dangerous to property.

778. The officer in charge of any Government bonded warehouse shall on receiving any goods into such warehouse compare such goods as far as practicable with the import entry for warehousing them and shall forthwith make due and regular entry of the receipts of the goods aforesaid in a book to be kept for that purpose according to a form to be prescribed by the Premier and after the receipt of the proper authority on a form duly appointed shall on the delivery or re-warehousing of such goods duly and regularly enter such delivery or re-warehousing in the book aforesaid.

EXPLANATION.—This section applies to keeping the Government Bonded Store books, and also to entering the time any goods are bonded and when they are re-bonded or delivered.

Goods may be
bond.

779. All goods removed to a Government bonded warehouse shall be removed thither in the original packages in which imported unless with the special permission of the Chief Officer of Customs at any port but the owner of any goods in any Government bonded warehouse or any person employed by him may with the permission of the proper Officer of Customs take samples of such goods on payment of a fee of one shilling (1s.) for every sample so taken or may bulk sort lot pack or re-pack any goods with the exception of spirits which shall be re-packed only for ship's stores and provided that no package so replaced shall be of less dimensions or contain a smaller quantity of any article than may from time to time be determined by the Chief Officer of Customs at any port.

EXPLANATION.—It shall not be lawful to remove the original covering of any package of goods received in any bonded store, but it may be opened in the bond store by the permission of the Collector of Customs.

Goods—How
from bond.

780. Any dutiable goods deposited in any Government bonded warehouse may after payment of all moneys owing thereon to the Crown be removed therefrom by the proper owner (1) by passing an export entry for such goods and entering into a bond as herein-after provided for the export of dutiable goods or (2) by passing an entry for home consumption and paying duty on such goods or (3) by passing an entry in respect of such goods for the removal of dutiable goods to a Government bonded warehouse and entering into a bond as required in Section 771 of this Act. And any dutiable goods removed from any Government bonded warehouse save as provided in this Section (unless with the written permission of any Officer of Customs) shall be forfeited to the Crown and any person removing or assisting or aiding or abetting in the removal of such goods except in a manner provided in this Act and any person receiving such goods shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) nor less than one hundred and twenty-five dollars ($125) and in default to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months nor less than fourteen days.

EXPLANATION.—This applies to the three ways of removing goods from the bonded store, and the punishment that will accrue to anyone who removes any goods from the bonded store contrary to these laws.

Goods if not dealt with after three years to be sold by auction.

781. Should the owner of any goods left three years in any Government bonded warehouse not remove such goods at the expiration of that period nor pass an entry to have such goods re-warehoused the Premier shall cause a notice to be inserted in the Gazette giving the marks of any such goods with the name of the owner thereof if the name of the owner is known and with the date on which such goods were received into any Government bonded warehouse and shall name a day which shall not be less than one month from the date of such notice on which the said goods shall be sold by public auction if not previously dealt with by the proper owner in the manner hereinbefore provided in the last preceding Section and shall cause such goods to be sold accordingly.

EXPLANATION.—Should any goods remain in the bonded store for three years if shall be published in the Gazette, and if not then removed, the goods shall be sold by public auction.

782. On the sale by auction of any goods as aforesaid there shall be deducted from the proceeds of sale after payment of any necessary expenses connected with the sale thereof any Customs duty and any other fee or charges payable to the Crown on such goods and the surplus if any after such payments have been made shall be paid into the Treasury and if not claimed by the owner of the goods aforesaid within twelve months shall be forfeited to the Crown. But should any goods as aforesaid be unsaleable or should their condition or value be such that the proceeds of sale would not in the opinion of the Premier pay the necessary expenses of sale by public auction such goods may be destroyed and neither the owner thereof nor any person or persons shall have any claim against any officer of Customs nor against the Crown for the destruction of such goods.

Proceeds of sale—how disposed of.

EXPLANATION.—From the proceeds of the sale by auction the duties shall be deducted and paid to the Government, and the balance shall be paid to the owner of the goods; but should it not be known to whom the goods belong, the Government shall retain the whole; but if the goods are not of sufficient value, it shall be lawful to burn them or throw them into the sea.

783. When any goods have been received into a Government bonded warehouse or so long as any goods remain therein the owner of such goods may at any time on application to the Officer of Customs in charge of such warehouse and on payment of the proper fee receive a certificate to be called a "Bond Certificate" in such form as may be from time to time approved by the Premier stating that such goods are in the Government bonded warehouse and containing a description of such goods so far as known to such Officer and when such goods were deposited in such warehouse. On the issue of any certificate as aforesaid the Officer granting it shall make due entry thereof in a book to be kept for that purpose and no goods in respect of which a certificate has been granted as hereinbefore mentioned shall be removed from the Government bonded warehouse unless the certificate aforesaid shall be produced together with the invoice bill of lading or shipping receipt required under this Chapter in connection with the removal of any goods from a Government bonded warehouse. The certificate shall be issued for and include only unbroken packages and of these only such packages as were bonded on one day by the owner thereof aforesaid and may be transferred by regular assignment but only for all the goods mentioned in the certificate and in the form therein provided and any person to whom the certificate has been so assigned producing it at the Government bonded warehouse mentioned therein shall be held to be the owner of the goods described in the certificate and on the surrender of the certificate to the Officer of Customs who shall immediately cancel it the goods shall be delivered to the said person on the payment of all dues and charges thereon and no claim on account of such goods so delivered shall lie against any Officer of Customs or against the Crown. The fee payable on the certificate under this Section shall be at the rate of one shilling (1s.) per package and not exceeding one dollar and one shilling ($1 1s.) on the whole of the goods bonded on one day and mentioned in the certificate or such other rate as may be from time to time fixed by the Premier with the advice and consent of the Privy Council.

EXPLANATION.—This section permits the owner of any goods in the bonded warehouse to obtain a certificate for the sale of goods to anyone by giving to him a certificate to hand to the Officer of Customs, when he will receive immediately the goods bought.

THE COLLECTION OF CUSTOMS DUES.

Dues payable in current coin and before removal of goods.

784. All Customs dues warehouse wharfage and other charges payable to the Crown on any goods under any law now in force or that hereafter may be in force in this Kingdom shall be paid in full at or before the time that an entry is passed for such goods whether such entry be an import or export entry or an entry for home consumption and before such goods are removed from the control and custody of the proper Officer of Customs and such dues and charges shall be paid to the Collector or other chief Officer of Customs at any port of entry or to any other Officer deputed to receive them by such Collector or other chief Officer of Customs and between the hours of nine a.m. and three p.m. on ordinary working days and between the hours of nine in the forenoon and noon on Saturdays. All dues and charges as aforesaid shall be paid in the current money of the Kingdom.

EXPLANATION.—The duty on the goods shall first be paid, and then the entry for the goods passed, and payment shall be made in working time, and only in the legal tender used in Tonga.

Invoice and bill of lading to be produced on passing entries.

785. Before the Collector or other proper Officer of Customs as aforesaid determines the amount of duty payable on any goods or before any import entry is passed for any goods as hereinbefore provided such Collector or other proper Officer of Customs may demand that the invoice or bill of lading or shipping receipt for such goods be produced before him for examination and if the said invoice or bill of lading or shipping receipt is not produced as aforesaid or if for any other reason it is considered necessary then the Collector or other proper Officer of Customs may cause the said goods to be brought at the expense of the owner thereof to a Government bonded store to be examined there (any unpacking weighing measuring or repacking to be done at the expense of the owner) and may require the said owner to declare on oath where and when such goods were purchased by him so that the Collector or other Officer of Customs may examine such goods in order to fix the amount of duty payable thereon but should the Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs be unable to determine the amount of duty payable on any goods for which no invoice bill of lading or shipping receipt has been produced as aforesaid or should the owner thereof be dissatisfied with the decision of the Collector or other Officer in respect of the Customs dues payable on the said goods the Collector or such other officer may employ an expert to examine such goods at the expense of the owner thereof in order to enable the amount of duty payable thereon to be determined but nothing in this Section shall prevent the owner of any goods for which no invoice bill of lading or shipping receipt has been received from depositing them in a Government bonded warehouse for a period not exceeding two months by passing an entry as complete as possible for the removal of such goods to a Government bonded warehouse and if on the expiration of that period perfect entry has not been passed for such goods they shall be sold for the payment of any dues and charges payable thereon to the Crown and fixed by the Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs or by an expert as aforesaid and any overplus shall be paid to the owner.

EXPLANATION.—Should any goods be imported, and no invoice produced as to value, the covering shall be taken off, they shall be unpacked, the Collector shall examine the goods, and determine the duty payable on them; but the goods may be deposited in the bonded warehouse for two months to enable a letter to be written to the foreign country for the invoice.

786. The amount of Customs dues payable on any goods which are liable to an ad valorem duty shall if an invoice for the said goods is produced to the Collector or other proper Officer of Customs be calculated on the price paid for the said goods by the owner thereof as represented in such invoice notwithstanding that such price may be different from that paid for such goods by any prior owner thereof provided always that the Collector or such other proper Officer of Customs is satisfied that the entries in such invoice are true and that the invoice is genuine in every particular and that the price paid for the said goods by the owner thereof as represented by the invoice aforesaid appears to be a fair market value for such goods at the place and at the time that they were purchased by the owner thereof.

Determination of ad valorem dues in ordinary cases.

EXPLANATION.—The duties shall be paid in accordance with the price paid by the owner of the goods, and the value shall be calculated according to the price paid by the owner.

787. When the invoice produced before the Collector or other proper Officer of Customs in respect of any goods liable to an ad valorem duty shows that any trade discount has been allowed to the owner of such goods on the purchasing price of the said goods as entered in the body of the invoice the Collector or other proper Officer of Customs may if he considers it necessary so to do before omitting the said discount from the original price on which any ad valorem duty is calculated in respect of such goods require the owner thereof to make a declaration on oath that such discount was truly made to him on the purchasing price of such goods and that the entry showing such discount on the invoice was made at the time and at the place of the purchase of the goods by such owner and should the owner of the said goods refuse or neglect to make the declaration aforesaid then the duty payable on such goods shall be calculated on the invoice price of such goods without making any allowance for any discount as aforesaid provided always that the Collector or other officer is of opinion that the price so represented is such as that for which the goods in question could have been purchased at the time and place represented by the invoice aforesaid but if the Collector or other proper officer is of opinion that the price of such goods would not be fairly shown as aforesaid then the value of such goods shall be determined in the manner provided in Section 786 hereof.

goods.

EXPLANATION.—If anyone receives trade discount on goods he purchases, the Collector may require him to make a declaration on oath that such discount was truly made to him; and then he shall pay duty on such discounted value; but should the Collector not believe him, he shall determine the value in the manner provided in the foregoing section.

Officer of Customs may detain false or disputed invoice, etc.

788. Should the proper Officer of Customs be of opinion that any invoice bill of lading or shipping receipt or other document produced before him in connection with the payment of any Customs dues or other charges on any goods is not genuine or that any false entry has been made thereon or some necessary entry omitted therefrom or should any dispute arise between the owner of any goods and any Officer of Customs as to the amount of Customs dues or other charges payable upon any goods it shall be lawful for the proper Officer of Customs to detain in his possession any invoice bill of lading shipping receipt or any other document put before him in connection with such goods until any such dispute shall be settled in the manner herein provided or until any prosecution in respect of any such invoice bill of lading shipping receipt or other document or in respect of any goods referred to by such document shall have been completed.

EXPLANATION.—Should it appear that any invoice for goods produced in connection with the payment of any Customs dues is not correct, and a dispute shall arise between the Collector and the owner of the goods, it shall be lawful to detain such document until the dispute has been settled.

Payment of Customs dues on goods removed from bond.

789. When the owner of any goods liable to the payment of duty wishes to remove such goods from any Government bonded warehouse by the payment of Customs dues and other charges thereon the owner aforesaid shall pass an entry at the Custom House for such goods for home consumption. At the time that such entry is passed the invoice and bill of lading or shipping receipt for such goods shall be produced to the proper Officer of Customs and upon such invoice or upon the import entry passed for such goods or upon the entry of such goods made by the proper Officer of Customs on receiving such goods into a Government bonded warehouse Customs dues shall be calculated and paid save only on spirits on which duty shall be paid according to its measurement or weight on delivery from bond and upon tobacco and cigars on which duty shall be paid according to weight on delivery from bond after having been in bond three months provided that if the invoice and bill of lading or shipping receipt for such goods is not produced then the amount of duty payable on such goods shall be determined in the manner provided in Section 785.

EXPLANATION.—Should goods be removed from a bonded warehouse, an invoice referring to the same shall be produced, and duty shall be paid in accordance with the value stated in the invoice, but liquor and tobacco shall be paid according to its measurement at the time of delivery, because, if tobacco has been left in a bonded warehouse for three months, the weight of that article decreases, on account of the length of time.

ENTRY OF VESSELS OUTWARDS.

Master to enter vessel outwards before taking in cargo.

790. The master of any vessel about to sail beyond the Kingdom shall not less than twenty-four hours before any outward cargo is taken on board such vessel or before the sailing of the said vessel should the same sail without taking on board any cargo complete an entry outwards at the Custom House of some port of entry producing before the proper Officer of Customs any papers or documents connected with such vessel as may be demanded by such officer and such entry outwards shall be in such form and of such dimensions as may from time to time be approved by the Premier and shall be of one of the following classes:—

1. A Direct Entry Outwards for any vessel sailing with or without cargo from the port of entry where such vessel lies to some port or place outside the Kingdom:
2. An Indirect Entry Outwards for any vessel sailing from a port of entry as aforesaid with or without outward cargo to some other port or ports of entry in the Kingdom to proceed thence beyond the Kingdom:
3. A Special Entry Outwards to be granted by the Premier or any Officer of Customs authorised by him for the purpose who may demand any security that may by him be deemed requisite that the conditions on which such special entry outwards is granted will be complied with for any vessel sailing from a port of entry or from some place not a port of entry with or without outward cargo on board to take in outward cargo at some place or places in the Kingdom not a port or ports of entry and to sail thence calling at a port of entry or without again visiting a port of entry in the Kingdom as may have been permitted in such special entry outwards.

The master of any foreign-going vessel as aforesaid who takes causes or permits any goods to be taken on board such vessel before completing an entry outwards as herein provided or that sails or attempts to sail from the Kingdom without completing the proper entry outward in each case as hereinbefore provided or that passes an "indirect entry outwards" and does not call at any port of entry in the Kingdom mentioned in such "indirect entry outwards" shall at any time within three years thereafter on conviction in a summary manner before a Police Magistrate be liable to a penalty of not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) nor less than one hundred and twenty-five dollars ($125) or in default of payment to imprisonment for any term not exceeding three months nor less than one month.

EXPLANATION.—The Master of the vessel shall obtain an entry outwards 24 hours before he sails, and any Master of a vessel who shall sail beyond this Kingdom without first obtaining an entry outwards, or a document to go to another port in Tonga, but does not go there, he shall be punished if he returns to Tonga within 3 years.

791. No entry outwards as provided in the last preceding Section shall enable the Master of any vessel to take or receive on board any outward cargo until all inward cargo shall have been discharged and removed from such vessel. Provided however that whenever the Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs at any port of entry is satisfied that it would be expedient to allow outward cargo to be shipped at the same time that inward cargo is being discharged or before all inward cargo is removed from any vessel and that such can be done without injury to the public revenue such Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs may permit outward cargo to be put on board any vessel before all inward cargo has been discharged or removed from such vessel but every such case shall be reported to the Premier or official in charge by the Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs as the case may be.

EXPLANATION.—The inward cargo shall first be landed, before any outward cargo can be taken on board, but the Collector may permit outward cargo to be taken on board whilst inward cargo is still being landed, if it appear to him that there will be no loss of payment on the duty the Government is justly entitled to.

Cargo outwards not to be shipped without permission until all cargo is discharged

EXPORT ENTRY OF GOODS.

Export entries to be passed before clearance of vessel.

792. The owner of any-goods about to be shipped for export from the Kingdom in any vessel about to sail beyond the Kingdom shall present to the Officer of Customs at the port of entry where the said vessel is anchored a written notification which shall be in a form and dimensions to be from time to time approved by the Premier and shall in every case before the shipment of any goods as aforesaid declare the intention of the said owner to ship such goods for export. The owner of any goods shipped or to be shipped for export from the Kingdom in any vessel about to sail beyond the Kingdom shall pass an export entry for such goods at the Custom House and such export entry shall in every case be completed by the owner of the goods to which the entry refers before a clearance has been granted to the vessel by which the said goods are to be exported and shall be in a form and of dimensions to be from time to time approved by the Premier and shall in every case declare the true value in this Kingdom of the goods to be exported and shall declare whether such goods were produced or manufactured in the Kingdom or imported thither from abroad and for what port or place any such goods are destined and shall on demand of the proper Officer of Customs produce the invoice bills of lading and other documents relating to such goods to test the accuracy of the export entry for such goods and every such export entry shall be of some one of the following classes:—

1. An export entry for goods to be exported under bond:
2. An export entry for goods on which any drawback of duty is allowed:
3. An export entry for goods not liable to the payment of any duty:
4. An export entry for goods on which an export duty is leviable.

EXPLANATION.—Should any goods be shipped for export beyond the Kingdom, a clearance shall first be granted, and then it shall be allowable; and no export entry shall be passed till a clearance has been granted to the vessel shipping the goods, in accordance with Section 790; and there are 4 classes of export entries.

Goods for ex-
examined by any Officer of Customs.

793. Any goods shipped or brought for shipment may be examined by any Officer of Customs at any place before or after an export entry is passed for such goods and the opening for that purpose of packages containing such goods and the weighing re-packing and if brought on the request of an Officer of Customs to a Custom House for examination the landing and shipping thereof shall be done by or at the expense of the exporter and any goods in respect of which no export entry has been passed as provided in the last preceding Section found on board any vessel by any Officer of Customs after a clearance has been granted to such vessel as provided in Section 798 hereof shall be forfeited to the Crown.

EXPLANATION.—The Officer of Customs may untie the covering of any package or open any box containing any goods for export beyond the Kingdom to examine the contents, and the expense of opening and re-packing the goods shall be paid by the owner of the goods; and any goods found for which no export entry has been passed shall be forfeited to the Government.

794. No dutiable goods and no goods on which any drawback of any duty is claimed under this Act or under any regulation framed in accordance with the provisions thereof shall for the purpose of being exported from the Kingdom or of being removed from any place in the Kingdom to any other place therein be put on board any vessel of less dimensions than thirty registered tons nor on board any vessel whatever not provided with the means of properly securing any goods as aforesaid to the satisfaction of any Officer of Customs.

Dutiable goods not to be shipped in vessels under thirty tons register.

EXPLANATION.—No dutiable goods shall be shipped on board any vessel under 30 tons register, or on board any vessel unable to lock up or seal the hold; this restriction is made lest any goods are shipped on board of a small vessel and smuggled on shore in Tonga without paying duty.

795. An export entry for dutiable goods shall be completed by the owner of such goods before they are removed from the place where such goods may have been legally deposited and one copy of such entry duly passed and signed by the proper Officer of Customs shall be delivered to the Officer of Customs charged with the safe keeping or delivery of the said goods before such Officer shall deliver up or allow them to be removed from his control. And an export entry for any goods on which any drawback of duty is allowed shall be passed before such goods are shipped and at the time of completing any export entry as aforesaid the owner of the goods described in such entry shall enter into a bond for any sum to be approved by the Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs and which if required shall be signed by at least one other person besides the owner of the said goods to the satisfaction of the Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs that the goods to be exported as aforesaid shall within such time and by such route by such vessel as may be specified in such bond under the supervision of an Officer of Customs be duly put on board the vessel mentioned in such bond and that they will not be used on board such vessel in the Kingdom nor landed nor removed from such vessel at any place within the waters of the Kingdom except to be returned as may be permitted or directed by the Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs to a Government bonded warehouse or by passing an import entry for the said goods in the manner hereinbefore provided in this Chapter for goods imported into this Kingdom from abroad.

Export entry and bond for dutiable goods for export.

EXPLANATION.—The Collector shall complete the export entry and hand it to the officer in charge of the goods, and he shall then be at liberty to deliver the goods to the owner; but, in respect of goods on which drawback is being allowed, on being shipped out of the Kingdom, a bond shall be given, and specify that they will not be smuggled ashore in Tonga.

796. The owner of any dutiable goods exported as provided in the last preceding Section and any co-obligant signing together with such owner the bond required under the said Section shall not be held as relieved from obligation in respect of such bond until a landing certificate has been produced to the Collector or other proper Officer of Customs at the port whence such goods were exported signed by some Customs or Consular Officer at the place where such goods were landed or in the event of there being no Consular or Customs Officer at such place then the said certificate shall be signed by some person in authority there or by any two white residents in such place that the goods aforesaid were duly landed there (such person in authority or any two white residents as aforesaid to be appointed by the Premier otherwise a landing certificate signed without approval shall be deemed to be valueless for the purposes of this Chapter) unless the Premier shall be satisfied without the production of such landing certificate* that the goods to which the bond refers were duly landed at the place specified in such bond or have been otherwise properly accounted for.

EXPLANATION.—The bond shall be considered in force up to the time a certificate be produced from the place beyond the Kingdom where the goods were landed; and if it is unable to obtain the signature of an Officer of Customs or Consul, it shall rest with the Premier to determine who shall give such certificate, and only such shall be valid.

Export entry for goods liable to export duty to be passed before shipment.

797. An export entry for any goods liable to any export duty shall be passed and completed before such goods are shipped and at the time of passing such entry and before the said goods are put on board any vessel for export all Customs dues leviable on such goods shall be paid to the Collector or other proper Officer of Customs and any such goods found by any Officer of Customs on board any vessel before any Customs dues on such goods have been paid or any such goods taken or received on board any vessel except in the presence and by the authority and permission of an Officer of Customs may be seized by any Officer of Customs and the owner of such goods shall be liable to a penalty of not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) and in default of payment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two months and all such goods seized as aforesaid shall be forfeited to the Crown.

EXPLANATION.—Should any goods be exported beyond the Kingdom liable to export duty, such as silver coin, the duty shall be paid before the export entry is completed, and if any such goods are shipped without the permission of an Officer of Customs, the owner of the goods shall be punished, and the goods forfeited to the Government.

Clearance of vessel outwards.

798. The master of any foreign-going vessel shall not more than twenty-four hours before such vessel leaves any port of entry in the Kingdom produce before the Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs the register of such vessel and the crew's articles of agreement with a content or manifest on the approved form of all goods on board such vessel for export or to be carried coastwise and if required by the Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs all bills of lading or shipping receipts having reference to such goods with a list of all goods on board such vessel to be used as stores and provisions during the voyage and with a list of all passengers leaving such port of entry on the said vessel with their destinations and the master aforesaid shall make and subscribe a declaration that the abovementioned papers and documents are correct and true according to the best of his knowledge and belief and such declaration should the Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs so demand shall be made on oath and when the said Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs is satisfied on each and all the above particulars then such Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs shall grant a clearance to such vessel which shall be in a form to be prescribed from time to time by the Premier and the master of any vessel that shall allow such vessel as aforesaid to leave any port of entry without obtaining a clearance as herein provided or that shall fraudulently subscribe any declaration or affirm on oath that any declaration as aforesaid is true when the master of such vessel knows the said declaration to be false and the master of any vessel that shall depart from any place in the Kingdom with any Customs or other Government Officer on board without the consent of such officer shall be liable to a penalty of not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) and not less than one hundred and twenty-five dollars ($125) and in default of payment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months nor less than one month.

EXPLANATION.—This refers to the clearance. The Master of the vessel shall produce to the Collector of Customs the documents pertaining to the vessel, and, if it appears they are correct, a clearance shall be granted after 24 hours from the time the papers were produced. The Master of a vessel who sails without a clearance, or who makes a false declaration, shall be punished.

DRAWBACK OF DUTY.

799. It shall be lawful for the Premier from time to time to frame regulations respecting drawback of duty to be allowed on any goods exported from the Kingdom under this Chapter or to revoke or amend any such regulations as may from time to time be deemed expedient and such regulations when approved by the Privy Council and published in the Gazette shall have the force of law as if they had formed part of this Chapter. Such regulations may impose a money penalty for any offence thereunder not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) and may provide for the forfeiture of any goods and may determine the proportion of drawback to be allowed on any goods whether exported in original or broken packages and within what periods after the introduction of any goods into the Kingdom drawback shall be allowed thereon and on what goods no drawback shall be allowed and shall prescribe the conditions under which such drawback shall be made both on original and on broken packages and where and under what conditions or restrictions goods on which drawback is allowed shall be repacked provided that no drawback shall be allowed on any damaged goods and that the drawback on any goods repacked from broken packages shall not in any case exceed three-fourths of the duty originally paid on such goods.

Regulations to be made with reference to drawback of duty.

EXPLANATION.—Drawback duty is paid to the owner of the goods who has paid duty, and if he takes the goods out of the Kingdom.

This section makes it lawful to make regulations about drawback on duty, in accordance with the law, when approved by the Privy Council, and for the punishment of a breach of such regulations.

COASTING.

800. Licenses to enable vessels to be employed within the Kingdom or coast in any manner whatever within the waters of the Kingdom (hereinafter called "Coasting Licenses") and licenses to enable foreign-going ships or ships arriving at any port from any place beyond the Kingdom to carry coastwise within the Kingdom goods or passengers not arriving therein from abroad or not to be carried therein beyond the Kingdom (hereinafter called "Licenses to Carry Coastwise") shall be issued by the Collector or Chief Officer of Customs at any port of entry.

Coasting licenses.

EXPLANATION.—Should any vessel arrive from beyond the Kingdom at Nukualofa, and wish to sail also to Haapai, or Vavau, or to any island in Tonga, the Master of the vessel shall first obtain a Coasting License, and then he shall be at liberty to sail there.

Period for which licenses may issue and rates payable.

Where temporary licenses may be given.

Penalty for employing vessels within the Kingdom without being properly licensed.

Duties required from Master of vessel on entering and on leaving a port of entry.

801. Coasting Licenses or licenses to carry coastwise shall be subject to the annual rates of payment hereinafter in Schedule A stated and shall be issued for three six nine or twelve months upon such annual rates or proportionate part thereof according to the time for which they are issued. And in all cases such licenses shall date from the first day of January April July or October and shall expire on the last day of March June September or December as the case may be. Provided that if in any case a steamship should be sent to the Kingdom in substitution of a steamship running regularly to the Kingdom and duly licensed to carry coastwise therein it shall be lawful for the Chief Officer of Customs to grant in respect of such first-mentioned steamship a temporary license during the license of such other steamship for such time and upon such terms as he shall think fit.

EXPLANATION.—Coasting Licenses shall be payable for a proportionate period, but it shall be lawful to grant a temporary license for any steamer running in place of a monthly steamer which has already paid a Coasting License.

802. Any person employing any vessel within the Kingdom or carrying coastwise in any ship within the Kingdom goods or passengers not arriving therein from abroad or not to be carried therein beyond the Kingdom without being duly licensed as above mentioned shall on conviction for each such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) or be imprisoned for any term not exceeding three months. Provided always that nothing in this Section shall be held to apply to or affect any native of Tonga in charge of a vessel the property of a native of Tonga while employed exclusively in carrying only native passengers or native produce within the waters of the Kingdom and the master of any vessel owned by a Tongan and employed exclusively in carrying native passengers or native produce shall pay the sum of one dollar ($1) for each clearance.

EXPLANATION.—The Master of a vessel shall be punished who carries goods, or people, from any place in Tonga to any other place within the country without first obtaining a Coasting License. Any Tongan, being Master of a vessel owned by a Tongan, is at liberty to carry Tongans and native property without holding a Coasting License; but, if he carries foreign-made goods, and receives payment for carrying the cargo, he must first obtain a permit.

803. The master of any vessel in respect of which a coasting license is held shall each time such vessel arrives at a port of entry enter the same at the Custom House of such port of entry within twelve ordinary office hours after such arrival and shall clear the said vessel at the Custom House aforesaid before the departure of the said vessel from such port by presenting at the Custom House the cargo-book of such vessel fully made up to date of such presentation. Such cargo-book shall be in such form as from time to time may be approved by the Collector of Customs and the master of any vessel shall enter in such book the names of all passengers embarking in and disembarking from such vessel and where and when any such passengers went on board and left such vessel and a description of all goods taken on board where and when discharged and the names of all places called at by such vessel during every voyage. Such book shall on demand be produced at any time to the Collector or any other Officer of Customs or to any Police Magistrate or Police Officer and shall when filled up and completed be delivered or transmitted to the Collector of Customs and the master of any such vessel that refuses or neglects to comply with any of the provisions of this Section shall on conviction for each such offence be liable to a penalty of not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25) and not less than three dollars ($3) and in default of payment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven days nor less than twenty-four hours.

EXPLANATION.—The Master of any vessel sailing coastwise shall, on arrival of his vessel at a port of entry, enter his vessel before the expiration of 12 working hours; the working hours from 9 till 1, and from 2 till 4, shall be called 6 hours; 12 hours are equal to 2 days; and on getting ready to sail to any place he shall first deliver his cargo book to the Collector of Customs; and should this not be done he shall be punished.

804. On any vessel in respect of which a license to carry coastwise may have been granted there shall be paid at the first port of entry entered by such vessel whereat pilotage light or shipping dues are collected the ordinary pilotage light or shipping dues charged inwards and at the last port of entry entered by such vessel whereat the said pilotage light or shipping dues are collected the ordinary pilotage rates charged outwards leviable under any Act now in force or that hereafter may be in force on any such vessel arriving in or proceeding beyond the Kingdom. Such license as aforesaid shall not affect any vessel to which it is granted in any particular not herein specified.

Manner of levying pilotage rates and light dues inwards and outwards.

EXPLANATION.—Payment shall be made by any vessel arriving from beyond the Kingdom holding a Coasting License of pilotage, light, and harbour dues on entering the first port of entry, but only ordinary pilotage shall be paid by a vessel sailing foreign from her last port, and she shall be free from all other charges at that harbour.

805. The master of any vessel in respect of which a license to carry coastwise shall have been granted shall on arriving at any port of entry produce to the Chief Officer of Customs at such port the clearance of the said vessel from the port of entry last visited by such vessel and any other papers that may be demanded connected with such vessel or any goods on board such vessel together with the contents or manifest of all goods and the list of stores and provisions thereon before any goods whatsoever whether carried coastwise or not are removed or discharged from the said vessel and shall before such vessel leaves any port of entry enter or cause to be entered on such content or manifest as goods to be carried coastwise to any port or ports as specified in such manifest all goods taken on board such vessel at such port of entry to be carried coastwise with the destination of the same and shall produce such manifest and passenger list to the Chief Officer of Customs at such port of entry not more than twenty-four hours before the departure of the said vessel from such port of entry and shall answer any reasonable question and give any information on oath or otherwise as may be required by such Officer of Customs in respect of any goods or passengers as aforesaid. The master of any such vessel as aforesaid shall not allow or permit such vessel to leave any port of entry until a clearance shall have been granted to such vessel by the Chief Officer of Customs at the said port of entry.

Master to produce clearance and other papers on arriving at any port of entry.

EXPLANATION.—The Master of any vessel holding a Coasting License on arrival shall produce a clearance from the last port he visited, together with the following documents:—1. The manifest. 2. Stores list. And before departing he shall furnish the Collector of Customs with a list of cargo and passengers taken coastwise; and he is forbidden to sail without a clearance.

Where vessel in proceeding coast-wise has on board goods from beyond the Kingdom.

806. The master of any vessel having on board any goods imported in such vessel from beyond the Kingdom and still undischarged from such vessel or having on board any goods to be exported beyond the Kingdom in such vessel shall proceed with the said vessel direct from one port of entry to another port of entry in the Kingdom as may have been specified in the clearance of such vessel without taking on board and without discharging or disembarking any goods or passengers at any port or place and without stopping at any other port or place. Provided always that it shall be lawful for the Premier or an Officer of Customs authorised by him in writing to grant permission on application on such terms and conditions as to the Premier may seem expedient to allow any vessel as aforesaid to proceed to any place not a port of entry for the purpose of landing thereat or of taking on board any passengers of cargo.

EXPLANATION.—Any vessel carrying goods from beyond the Kingdom still undischarged is forbidden to sail to any other place in the Kingdom except a port of entry, but should the Premier permit her to sail to any other place in order to take on board passengers or cargo, then she shall be free to sail.

Penalty section.

807. The master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with any of the provisions of Sections 805 or 806 of this Chapter shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty of not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) nor less than twenty-five dollars ($25) and in default of payment to be imprisoned for any term not exceeding six months nor less than seven days.

EXPLANATION.—This punishment shall be inflicted on him who shall commit a breach of the two foregoing sections.

SHIPMENT OF STORES.

Stores allowed free of duty to foreign-going vessels.

808. The master of every vessel of the burden of thirty tons register or upwards entering outwards to any place out of the Kingdom shall upon due application made by him receive from the proper Officer of Customs an account or victualling bill (which may be endorsed upon the content or manifest of such vessel) for the shipment or retention on board of such stores as he shall require and as shall be allowed by the Collector or other proper Officer of Customs for the use of such vessel with reference to the number of the crew and passengers on board and the probable duration of the voyage upon which the said vessel is about to depart and no articles taken on board any vessel shall be deemed to be stores except such as shall be specified in such account or victualling bill or endorsed on the content or manifest of such vessel as the case may be. And if any such stores shall be re-landed in the Kingdom or removed from such vessel while within the waters of the Kingdom without the sanction of the proper Officer of Customs and without passing entries for the same as for the like sort of goods imported as merchandise they shall be forfeited and the master shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty of not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) and if any vessel shall have on board any stores that with the permission of the proper Officer of Customs are to be retained on board such vessel for use in port or during any intended voyage and if there is no proper or sufficient place on board such vessel for securing such stores to the satisfaction of the Officer of Customs the Officer may cause such stores to be removed to a Government bonded warehouse or if there is no Government bonded warehouse at the port to some other secure place at the expense of the master of the said vessel and such goods shall be liable to the ordinary charges on goods in a Government bonded warehouse.

EXPLANATION.—Ship's stores shall not be considered dutiable, and it is with the Collector to decide the amount of stores required for the people on board; but anyone landing such stores without the permission of the Collector of Customs shall be punished. If there be no place on board to lock up the stores for the intended voyage, they shall be landed in the Government Bonded Warehouse to be looked after.

SMUGGLING.

809. It shall be lawful for any Officer of Customs to go on board any vessel at any place and at any time within the waters of the Kingdom and to search for or examine any goods in any part of such vessel and to break open any cabin hold hatch compartment or any box chest or package or any other place or thing to search for any goods if the keys of any such cabin hold hatch compartment or of any box chest or package or of any other place or thing are not produced to such Officer of Customs by the master of the said vessel on the request of the Officer of Customs aforesaid and any dutiable goods found therein shall be forfeited to the Crown together with all other goods contained in the same packages or used in concealing such dutiable goods and such Officer of Customs may demand the content or manifest or other list of goods on board such vessel and the list of stores and provisions for the same at the port she last quitted as well as the clearance of such vessel from the port from whence she last sailed and the bill of lading or shipping receipt for any goods found in such vessel or any other document that may be required to identify such goods and the master of any vessel that shall refuse to deliver up to any Officer of Customs as aforesaid any key or refuse or neglect to open any cabin hold hatch compartment or any box chest or package or of any other place or thing hereinbefore provided or that shall refuse or neglect to produce any document demanded by such Officer of Customs having reference to any goods or stores on board such vessel or that shall refuse to bring such vessel to if under way or to bring such vessel to anchor at some port of entry on the request of such Officer of Customs and any person that shall obstruct or molest any Officer of Customs in searching any vessel or while on board or near any vessel as aforesaid shall be liable to a penalty of not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) nor less than two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) and in default of payment to imprisonment for not exceeding six months nor less than two months.

Customs Officer may search any vessel and examine any goods.

EXPLANATION.—It shall be lawful for any Officer of Customs to go on board any vessel at any time, to search for smuggled goods, and should such goods be found they shall be forfeited to the Crown, and the Master of the vessel shall also be punished; and should anyone obstruct the Officer of Customs when searching for goods he shall be punished.

810. When any goods not included in any declaration made under Section 763 hereof by the master of any vessel on her arrival in any port in the Kingdom and found on board any such vessel by any Officer of Customs after any declaration as aforesaid has been made or when any goods are found on board any vessel after a clearance has been granted in the Kingdom to such vessel that are not included in the content or manifest of such vessel or in the list of stores of the same and the presence of such goods on board is not satisfactorily accounted for to the said Officer of Customs or when any Officer of Customs finds on any vessel any goods that such Officer has reasonable ground for believing to have been imported into the Kingdom by some other vessel and that duty has not been paid on such goods it shall be lawful for any such Officer of Customs to seize such goods and affix thereto or thereon such marks as he may deem necessary and to remove or cause such goods to be removed to the Custom House or to a Government bonded warehouse for the purpose of securing them and unless the presence of such goods on board any vessel is satisfactorily accounted for or unless it is proved that all Customs dues have been paid on such goods as the case may be before a Police Magistrate such goods shall be forfeited to the Crown and the master of the vessel in which such goods were found shall on summary conviction before a Police Magistrate be liable to a penalty of not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) nor less than one hundred and twenty-five dollars ($125) and in default of payment to imprisonment for not exceeding six months nor less than one month provided always that any other person on board such vessel whether such person is a passenger or one of the crew of the said vessel may instead of the master of such vessel at the discretion of the Premier be proceeded against for having in his possession or for aiding or abetting in the concealing of any goods as aforesaid and any such person shall on summary conviction before a Police Magistrate be liable to the penalty hereinbefore mentioned in this Section.

EXPLANATION.—Should any dutiable goods be found on any vessel not shown on the manifest, or in the store list, and should the duty not have been paid, such goods shall be forfeited to the Government, and the Master of the vessel shall be punished; but, should it appear to the Premier that the Master of the vessel had nothing to do with such goods, but some other person, he may give instructions not to proceed against the Master, but against the person who has committed the breach of law.

Issue of search warrant by Police Magistrate.

811. It shall be lawful for any Police Magistrate on sworn information laid by the Chief Officer of Customs at any port or by any other Officer of Customs deputed by such Chief Officer of Customs to issue a search warrant to enable any Officer of Customs to enter upon and search any premises named in such warrant and to enable such Officer of Customs to break open any place box case safe compartment or any receptacle whatever in which any dutiable goods could be concealed should the owner or occupier of such place or the owner of such box case safe compartment or other receptacle as aforesaid not open the same without delay or hindrance to the said Officer of Customs and such Officer of Customs may seize and remove to a Custom House or to a Government bonded warehouse any goods on which such Customs Officer has reasonable grounds for believing that no duty has been paid or insufficient duty has fraudulently been paid and the person in whose possession any such goods were found or the occupier of any house or of any premises in or on which any such goods may be found if the said goods were not found in the possession of any person other than such occupier and unless such occupier can show that the goods aforesaid were in the possession of some person other than himself shall unless it is proved to the satisfaction of the Police Magistrate that all duties leviable on such goods have been paid be liable to a penalty of not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000) nor less than one hundred and twenty-five dollars ($125) and in default of payment to imprisonment for not exceeding six months nor less than one month and any such goods as aforesaid shall be forfeited to the Crown.

EXPLANATION.—Should it appear that any dutiable goods have been smuggled ashore, and hidden on any premises, the Officer of Customs shall make a declaration on oath stating his grounds for belief, and a search warrant shall be issued by a Magistrate, and a search made for the smuggled goods on the premises; and if any such are found they shall be forfeited to the Crown, and he who has hidden the goods without paying duty shall be punished.

812. Any Officer of Customs may search any person on board any vessel within the limits of any port or any person who shall have landed from any vessel although such person may have declared that he has in his possession no dutiable goods if such person is suspected by such Officer of Customs to have in his possession such goods and may examine the travelling bag or other effects of any such person as aforesaid and if any such goods are found on any such person or in his travelling bag or other effects such Officer of Customs may if considered necessary by him detain such person until a warrant for his arrest shall have been obtained or until security satisfactory to the Chief Officer of Customs of the port shall have been given for the appearance of such person when summoned to appear before a Police Magistrate and any dutiable goods found as aforesaid shall be seized by the Officer of Customs finding them and any person on whom or among whose travelling baggage or other effects any such goods shall be found as aforesaid or any person in whose possession any goods so introduced into the Kingdom shall be found shall be liable to the same penalty as that provided in Section 780 of this Chapter and any goods seized by any Officer of Customs aforesaid shall be forfeited to the Crown. Provided that where any search is made upon a female it shall be conducted by a female.

Individuals and travelling baggage may be searched and detained

EXPLANATION.—Should any Officer of Customs believe that any dutiable goods are hidden on which duty has not been paid, in the clothing or in a box of anyone on board or on the wharf, he may detain such and search for the goods among the clothing or box, and should any dutiable goods be found they shall be forfeited to the Government, and he who has hidden the goods shall be punished; but a woman shall be appointed to search for any dutiable goods in the clothing of a woman.

813. EXPLANATION.—Should any Officer of Customs believe that dutiable goods have been concealed without paying duty on any vessel or vehicle, it shall be lawful for him to detain such vessel or vehicle and search for the goods, and should any such goods be found they shall be forfeited to the Government; and it shall be in the discretion of the Premier to bring an action against him in whose charge the vessel or vehicle was, or against the owner of the vessel or vehicle, or against the owner of the goods; and he shall also be punished who landed the goods from the vessel unlawfully, and also anyone who assisted to conceal them.

Penalty for refusing to stop means of conveyance and permit examination.

814. Should any Officer of Customs as provided in the last preceding Section demand the stopping of any boat or of any other means of conveyance removal or transport of any goods by water or of any person cart waggon or animal or other means of conveyance removal or transport of any goods by land any person in charge of or in any way employed or aiding or assisting in or about such means of conveyance either by land or water as aforesaid that shall refuse or neglect to stop any such means of conveyance or that shall refuse or neglect to permit an examination by such Officer of Customs of any such means of conveyance and of any goods in or on or about the same shall on conviction in a summary manner before a Police Magistrate be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) nor less than fifty dollars ($50) or in default of payment to imprisonment not exceeding three months nor less than fourteen days.

EXPLANATION.—Anyone who obstructs an Officer of Customs in the examination of any vessel or vehicle in which any goods may be smuggled, as set out in the last preceding section, shall be punished.

815. If there be found or be discovered to have been within three leagues of the coast of the Kingdom any Tongan vessel or any foreign vessel of the persons on board which not less than half are subjects of His Majesty or if there be found or be discovered to have been within one league of the coast of the Kingdom any foreign vessel of the persons on board which less than half are subjects of His Majesty and such vessel in either case shall be furnished with any false bulk-heads false bottom false bows false sides or with any secret disguised or concealed place or compartment of any description whatever or with any hole tube or device for running goods in or about any part of such vessel and having on board or having had on board spirits or tobacco in any form in packages of any size or description prohibited under Section 830 hereof or having or having had on board or landing or discharging or having landed or discharged any dutiable goods contrary to any of the provisions of this Chapter such vessel shall be forfeited with any goods or appliances as aforesaid on such vessel and every person found or discovered to have been on board such vessel liable to forfeiture as aforesaid within three leagues of the coast if a Tongan subject or within one league if a foreigner shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500).

Vessels with false or concealed stowage room to be forfeited.

EXPLANATION.—Any vessel the persons on board of which are one-half Tongans shall be called a Tongan vessel; and any vessel not holding a clearance, and appearing to smuggle goods into Tonga, shall be forfeited to the Crown; but if a foreign vessel she shall not be guilty under this section, unless she has come within one league of the shore, as she may have come close in to rectify her compass.

816. When any vessel is found at any place within the waters of the Kingdom with any goods on board and such vessel shall be afterwards found light or in ballast or not having on board all goods as shown by said vessel's manifest or clearance and the master thereof is unable to give a due account of the legal discharge of such goods or when any vessel is found at any place within the Kingdom and the master thereof shall be unable to account for the legal discharge of any goods shipped on board such vessel and entered in the content or manifest of the goods on board or that were put on board the said vessel the master of any such vessel shall on conviction before a Police Magistrate be liable to a fine of not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) nor less than five hundred dollars ($500) or the said vessel may be forfeited to the Crown either as an alternative penalty or in the event of the fine being unpaid.

Vessels found light or chased may be forfeited.

EXPLANATION.—Should any vessel be found within the Kingdom with goods on board, and is not found till after her cargo has been discharged, and it is evident that she landed contrary to law, the Master of the vessel shall be tried, and if he does not pay the fine imposed on him, the vessel shall be forfeited to the Crown.

817. When any dutiable goods are found in any package box or chest containing any other goods for which entries have been passed such dutiable goods if no entry has been passed therefor and their presence before discovery by an Officer of Customs has not been disclosed by the owner of the same shall be forfeited to the Crown together with such package and all goods contained therein unless the presence of such dutiable goods is satisfactorily accounted for to the Premier.

Dutiable goods concealed in packages of other goods to be forfeited.

EXPLANATION.—When any dutiable goods for which no entry has been passed are found in any package with goods for which entries have been passed, and it does not appear to the Premier that there is a proper reason for not passing the entry, the package and the goods therein shall be forfeited to the Crown.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

Master to pay head-tax on Chinese before their landing.

818. The master of any vessel arriving in the Kingdom who shall have a native or natives of China on board the vessel under his command shall detain such native or natives on board the said vessel till there shall be paid by the said master to the Chief Officer of Customs at the port where such native or natives of China are desirous of landing the sum of fifty dollars ($50) for each native of China to be landed within the Kingdom and any such native shall before payment of the fee before mentioned have received a medical certificate from the Medical Officer at Nukualofa or from any other person duly authorised by the said Medical Officer to issue such medical certificates before such landing as aforesaid. The master of any vessel aforesaid who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this Section and each such native as aforesaid that may land in the Kingdom before obtaining such medical certificate or before the payment of such fee shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) for every such native of China who may land as aforesaid or in default of payment to imprisonment for not exceeding six months.

EXPLANATION.—Natives of China coming from beyond the Kingdom shall pay a tax at the rate of $50 for each before landing, and the doctor shall also certify that none of them has any bad disease, and none shall land that are sick.

Master not to embark natives of Tonga without passport.

819. Any master of a vessel who shall receive or harbour on board of any vessel with the intention of carrying out of the Kingdom any native of Tonga who shall not have exhibited to such master of such vessel a passport duly signed by an Officer of Customs or Officer of Police authorising such native to leave the Kingdom and any person who shall aid or abet the departure of such native without being in possession of the passport as aforesaid shall on conviction before a Police Magistrate forfeit a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) and in default of payment be imprisoned for any term not exceeding two months.

EXPLANATION.—Should the Master of any vessel carry off a Tongan who does not possess a passport granting him permission to sail beyond the Kingdom, he shall be punished.

Import and export entry for Government goods.

820. No duty shall be levied or collected upon any goods imported into this Kingdom for the use of His Majesty's Government but an import entry shall be passed therefor as provided in Section 768 hereof and a declaration made by the Government Storekeeper or by some Government Officer duly authorised that such goods are intended for and will be used solely in the service of the Government. For any goods exported by the Government an export entry shall be passed by the Government Storekeeper or some other Government Officer in the manner provided in Section 797 hereof.

EXPLANATION.—No duty shall be paid on goods imported by the Government, but entries only shall be passed.

832. Any Officer of Customs may on the entry of any goods or at any time before or afterwards take samples of such goods for examination or for ascertaining the duties payable on such goods or for such other purposes as may be deemed necessary and such samples may be disposed of or accounted for in such manner as the Premier may from time to time direct.

EXPLANATION.—No Officer of Customs shall be charged for obtaining samples of goods for examination as per this section of the law.

833. When the owner of any dutiable goods alleges that the goods have been damaged and claims a rebate of Customs dues thereon it shall be lawful for the Premier if such claim was made on the first examination of the goods or when the same was first reported under this Chapter and if it is proved to his satisfaction that such damage was sustained during the voyage of the importing ship to the Kingdom and before the removal of the said goods from such ship to appoint an expert at the expense of the owner of such goods to determine the value thereof and if such goods are liable to an ad valorem duty the duty shall be paid on such valuation and if liable to a specific or general duty the duty shall be determined by the Collector or other Chief Officer of Customs on the valuation aforesaid but if the owner of the goods is dissatisfied with the amount of duty so fixed a final decision shall be given on the valuation of an expert as provided in Section 785 hereof. All goods derelict flotsam and jetsam and wreck brought or coming into the Kingdom and all droits of Admiralty sold therein shall at all times be subject to the same duties as goods of the like kind on importation into the Kingdom are subject to.

Customs dues on damaged goods.

EXPLANATION.—On the arrival here of any damaged goods it shall be lawful for the Premier to order payment of the duty in accordance with the value of the goods, seeing that they are damaged; goods got from a wrecked vessel shall not be free from duty.

834. The Premier with the consent of the Privy Council may make regulations for carrying into effect the provisions of this Chapter which regulations may fix penalties for the breach of any of them not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500). And such regulations after publication in the Gazette shall have the same effect as if embodied in this Chapter.

Regulations may be framed under this Chapter.

LEGAL PROCEDURE.

835. Every suit or proceeding for the recovery of any duty or other charge leviable under this Chapter or for the enforcement of any penalty or for the forfeiture of any goods vessel or boat or any other article or for the satisfying of any bond or security under this Chapter shall be entered in the name of the Collector of Customs and shall be decided in a summary manner.

Suits to be entered in name of Collector of Customs.

836. When any Officer of Customs makes a declaration on oath before a Police Magistrate that any person has been guilty of an offence against this Chapter and that in the belief of such Officer of Customs there is reason to suspect that the said person would leave the Kingdom before any suit against him could be prosecuted in respect of an offence as aforesaid such Police Magistrate may whether an information at the time such application is made by an Officer of Customs as hereinbefore mentioned has been filed before a Police Magistrate or not issue a warrant to apprehend such person and may require the same to give security by recognisance or otherwise for his appearance when called upon for hearing of his case and in default of such security may commit such person to gaol or to the custody of the Police till the hearing of the case against such person before a Police Magistrate.

Police Magistrate may grant warrant of arrest.

EXPLANATION.—Should it appear that anyone who has committed a breach of this law is preparing to abscond, it shall be lawful to take out a warrant of arrest, and to keep him in custody until the trial takes place.

Joint and several penalties and prosecutions.

837. When any penalty is incurred under this Chapter severally or jointly by more than one person such persons may be proceeded against jointly or severally as the Premier may deem fit and in a case of proceeding against several persons by joint information for the recovery of any penalty severally incurred by each of such persons such penalty shall be recoverable against each of the said persons notwithstanding that one or more of such persons may have allowed judgment to go by confession or default or that the penalty imposed on one or more of such persons is different from the penalty inflicted on any other or others of the said persons and every judgment shall be valid and effectual against any of the persons so jointly proceeded against for the full amount of the penalty inflicted on any one of such persons respectively.

EXPLANATION.—Should four be guilty under this section of the law, but should two deny it, and the other two give evidence as to their breach of the law, and punishment be inflicted on any of them, the punishment shall be inflicted on each of them, although two have denied the charge in the Court.

No information, conviction or warrant to be quashed for defect therein.

838. Any information laid before any Police Magistrate for any offence committed against or forfeiture incurred or for the satisfying of any bond or security under this Chapter may be in the form and to the effect that the circumstances of each case require and no information summons conviction or warrant or forfeiture shall be held void by reason of any defect therein and no person shall be entitled to be discharged out of custody on account of such defect provided it be alleged in the warrant that the said person has been convicted of an offence as aforesaid and provided it shall appear to the Court before which such warrant is returned that such conviction proceeded on good and valid grounds.

EXPLANATION.—Although the summons may be wrongly worded, the case against the defendant shall not be quashed.

Information may be laid within three years.

839. When any information is laid before any Police Magistrate for an offence against this Chapter by which it is sought to inflict any penalty or to recover any forfeiture or to satisfy any bond or security and such information shall have been laid within three years next after the date when such offence was committed such Police Magistrate may at that time or at any time afterwards issue his summons or warrant for the purpose of causing the person or persons named therein to appear at such time or place as may be directed in the said summons or warrant to be dealt with according to law.

EXPLANATION.—If a summons be issued before the expiration of three years next after the breach of law was committed, he who committed the breach of law shall appear before the Court, and it shall rest with the Magistrate whether the action is heard or whether it stand over for a time: but if three years have elapsed since the breach of law was committed, no charge can be brought against him who committed the breach of law.

840. When any information shall have been laid before any Police Magistrate for the forfeiture of any goods vessel boat or any other conveyance or of any article whatsoever seized under this Chapter such Police Magistrate shall issue his summons to the person or persons owning or claiming such goods vessel boat or other conveyance or other article to appear in support of his claim to the same and upon such appearance or in default after due proof of the service of the summons a reasonable time before the hearing the said Police Magistrate may proceed to inquire into the matter and shall condemn such goods vessel boat or other conveyance or other article as aforesaid or make such order as the circumstances require but should the owner of such goods vessel boat or other conveyance or other article be unknown and the said goods vessel boat or other conveyance or other article remain unclaimed for one month they shall then be condemned by the Police Magistrate.

how made.

EXPLANATION.—Should any application be brought before the Police Magistrate to order the forfeiture of any goods to the Crown, he shall send a summons to the owner of the goods, and if he does not appear it shall be lawful to accept the evidence of the prosecutor, and the Police Magistrate shall give judgment for the forfeiture of such goods to the Crown, and such action shall be considered in the nature of a proceeding.

841. Should any trial take place for the recovery of any goods forfeited to the Government it shall be lawful to appeal from the decision of the Police Court to the Supreme Court but no appeal shall be made to the Court for a breach of the law involving punishment except upon the order of the Cabinet at the request of the Minister of Police to re-hear such case in the Supreme Court without a jury.

EXPLANATION.—Should the Minister of Police grant a re-hearing to anyone already tried in the Police Court, it shall be tried by the Chief Justice without a jury.

842. If in any prosecution in respect of any goods seized for non-payment of duties or any other cause of forfeiture or for the recovery of any penalty or penalties under this Chapter any dispute shall arise whether the duties of Customs have been paid in respect of such goods or whether the same have been lawfully imported into the Kingdom or lawfully unshipped or concerning the place from whence such goods were brought there and in every such case the proof thereof shall lie on the defendant in such prosecution and the defendant shall be competent and compellable to give evidence and any goods of a description admissible to duty seized under any provision of this Chapter by any Customs Officer on any vessel or at any place whatsoever in the Kingdom or within the waters of the Kingdom shall in any proceeding before a Police Magistrate for the forfeiture of such goods or for the infliction of any penalty incurred in respect thereof or on the hearing an appeal of any such case before the Supreme Court be deemed and taken to be goods liable to and unshipped without payment of duties unless the contrary be proved and the evidence that any person acting as an Officer of Customs in any proceeding relating to Customs or undertaken under this Chapter was duly authorised shall be presumed until the contrary is proved.

The burden of proof to rest with accused.

EXPLANATION.—Anyone charged with any breach of this law, it is with the defendant to produce evidence that he has not broken the law, and it shall be taken that the duties have not been paid on any goods if there is no evidence that it has been paid, and it shall be lawful to swear the defendant and to compel him to give evidence under oath.

Claim to article forfeited to be made by true owner thereof.

843. No claim or appearance shall be permitted to be entered to any information for the forfeiture of any goods ship boat or other conveyance or article seized for any cause of forfeiture under this Chapter unless such claim or appearance be made by or in the true name or names of the owner or owners thereof and oath shall be made by such owner or owners or by one of them or by his or their agent or agents that the said goods ship boat or other conveyance or article are the true and lawful property of such owner or owners and every person convicted of making a false oath as to such facts shall be deemed guilty of perjury and shall be liable to the punishment thereof. (Compare Section 462.)

EXPLANATION.—On any information for the forfeiture of goods to the Crown the appearance of him to whom they belong shall not be allowed, unless he shall first swear on oath that such goods belong to him.

Magistrate's certificates as to uncondemned seizures.

844. In any suit or procedure for forfeiture of any goods ship boat or other conveyance or of any other article if a verdict shall be found for the claimant thereof the presiding Magistrate may certify that the seizure of such goods ship boat or other conveyance or article was reasonable and for possible cause and such certificate shall be a bar to all future proceedings against any Officer of Customs making such seizure and against the Crown in connection with such seizure.

EXPLANATION.—If the Magistrate Court gives judgment that the seized goods shall be returned to the owner of the goods, he will make out a certificate, and state that the Officer of Customs was justified in seizing the goods, and no action shall lie against the Officer of Customs for seizing such goods.

One month's notice of action against Officer.

845. No action shall be commenced against any Officer of Customs or other person acting with due authority under this Chapter for anything done in the execution of his duty or by reason of his office until one month next after notice in writing shall have been delivered to such Officer or other person or left at his usual place of abode and if any such action shall be commenced without such notice having been given and if the Court or Justice or Police Magistrate shall be satisfied by affidavit or otherwise that such action is brought on account of some act matter or thing done in execution of or by reason of the defendant's office such action shall be stayed.

EXPLANATION.—If any Officer of Customs be charged with anything he has done in the exercise of his duty, he shall first be given in writing one month's notice, and not till then shall the summons be issued for his appearance; and if not the action shall be stayed.

CHAPTER XXIX.

HARBOURS AND SHIPPING.

848. It shall be lawful for the Premier from time to time by proclamation in the Gazette to declare such place as may be expedient to be a harbour for the purposes of this Chapter or to declare by like proclamation that any such harbour shall after a specified date cease to be a harbour under this Chapter.

Premier may
harbours.

849. When any place shall be proclaimed as a harbour as aforesaid such proclamation shall state the limits and boundaries of such harbour and shall name a day on and after which pilotage rates light harbour and shipping dues shall be collected in respect of vessels entering or leaving such harbour and such pilotage rates light and shipping dues shall be levied as specified in the Schedule A to this Chapter or as may hereafter from time to time be determined by the Premier with the approval of the Privy Council and published in the Gazette. Provided that it shall be lawful for the Premier by such proclamation if expedient so to do to exempt vessels entering or leaving any harbour from the payment of all pilotage rates light harbour and shipping dues and provided that at any subsequent time the Premier may by like proclamation remove such exemption.

Limits of harbour to be defined and date appointed for levying dues.

Vessels may be exempted from dues in certain cases

850. The Premier may appoint a Harbour Master for any harbour as may be required who may also be Pilot in connection with such harbour and may also appoint any other officer or officers that may be required for carrying the provisions of this Chapter into effect and such Harbour Master and other officer or officers shall be under the general direction and control of the Premier for the time being.

Appointment of Harbour Master, pilot and other officers.

851. Every such Harbour Master when on duty as Harbour Master or Pilot shall fly on his boat a flag which shall be of large dimensions compared with the size of the boat carrying it and which shall be of two colours—the upper horizontal half white with the letters H.M. conspicuous thereon and the lower horizontal half red. Any person not being a Harbour Master or Pilot using a flag of the abovementioned description shall be deemed to have committed an offence against this Chapter. (Compare Section 878).

Harbour Master when on duty shall fly a certain flag.

852. The master of any vessel making for any harbour and requiring a pilot shall in the daytime display one or other of the following signals:—(1) To be hoisted at the fore the national colour usually worn by merchant ships or (2) the International Pilot Signal indicated by P.T. and at night one or other of the following signals:—(1) A pyrotechnic light commonly known as a blue light every five minutes or (2) a bright white light flashed or shown at short or frequent intervals just above the bulwarks for about a minute at a time.

CHAPTER XXX.

GOVERNMENT WHARVES.

Interpretation.

894. In this Chapter the term "Government Wharf" shall mean any wharf the property of His Majesty's Government which has been or shall be declared to be such by any proclamation of the Premier. The public wharves at Nukualofa and Neiafu shall be held for the purpose of this Chapter to be now proclaimed Government wharves.

Vessels not permitted to go alongside wharf except with permission of Harbour Master.

895. It shall not be lawful for any vessel to go alongside of or make fast to any Government wharf except with the permission of the Harbour Master or Chief Officer of Customs and the master or person in charge of any vessel who shall fail to comply with the provision of this Section shall on conviction be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty dollars ($50) or in default to imprisonment for a term not exceeding fourteen days.

Tonnage duty chargeable while lying alongside wharf.

896. When any vessel of a measurement of not less than two tons shall be placed alongside a Government wharf for the purpose of discharging or taking in cargo or landing or embarking passengers thereat or for any other purpose there shall be paid in respect of such vessel before obtaining her clearance or before she sails beyond the harbour in which such Government wharf is situated a duty per ton as specified in Schedule A of this Chapter. Provided that the Premier may in the case of regular traders commute such duty for any period not exceeding one year on the payment in advance of such sum and upon such other conditions as he may deem expedient in the particular case.

Where tonnage shall be that specified in vessel's register.

897. The measurement of any registered Tongan vessel or the vessel of any foreign country which has adopted the rules concerning the measurement of tonnage approved by the British Imperial Act of 17 and 18 Victoria Chapter 104 shall be deemed to be that specified in the register. The measurement of the vessel of any country that has not adopted such rules shall in the case of any dispute be determined by some competent person to be appointed by the Premier. In the case of unregistered vessels the measurement shall be determined by the Harbour Master.

898. There shall be paid in respect of any goods other than passengers' luggage landed in any port of the Kingdom and that have been imported from places beyond the Kingdom the wharfage dues as specified in Schedule E of this Chapter and all such goods shall be landed on a Government wharf only and at the risk of the consignee. Provided that the Premier or any Officer of Customs duly authorised by him so to do when special application shall be made for the purpose may if he think fit give permission in writing for the landing of any goods elsewhere. Such permission shall not exempt the goods to which it refers from the payment of wharfage dues unless granted at a time when in the opinion of the Premier or duly authorised Customs Officer as aforesaid accommodation is not obtainable at a Government wharf for landing such goods. Provided further that goods known in commerce as South Sea Island produce when imported into the Kingdom for export may be landed at any Government wharf or elsewhere and shall not on account of such landing be liable to payment of any wharfage dues.

Goods brought from beyond the Kingdom to be landed only at Government wharf.

Proviso.

899. Live stock may be landed elsewhere than at a Government wharf and if so landed no wharfage dues shall be charged thereon.

Landing of live stock.

900. Payment of wharfage dues upon imported goods shall be made at the time when the entry of such goods is passed at the Custom House.

Wharfage dues to be paid on imported goods at time of entry.

901. Wharfage dues as specified in Schedule E of this Chapter shall be paid in respect of all goods other than passengers' luggage that shall be shipped for export from the Kingdom in any vessel while lying at or using a Government wharf or that shall pass over such wharf for the purpose of such export or in respect of any live stock that shall pass over the wharf for the purpose of shipment. Provided that only half of the rate of dues specified in such Schedule shall be charged with reference to produce of Tonga and of the South Sea Islands.

As to wharfage dues chargeable on exported goods.

902. If any goods landed at a Government wharf or brought there for shipment shall be allowed to remain on such so as to impede the traffic thereon it shall be lawful for the Collector or other Officer of Customs to cause such goods to be removed and stored at the expense of the consignee or shipper.

If any goods impede traffic on wharf how dealt with.

903. Any goods in respect of which there shall be any neglect or refusal to pay the dues appointed to be paid by this Chapter may be seized and detained at the expense and risk of the owner consignee or exporter as the case may be and after the expiration of fourteen days from the date of seizure may be sold by public auction and there shall be paid out of the proceeds of sale all Custom and wharfage dues and all storage and other expenses incurred in respect of such goods and the surplus if any after such payments have been made shall be paid into the Treasury and if not claimed by the owner of the goods aforesaid within twelve months shall be forfeited to the Crown.

Where neglect or refusal to pay dues is made goods may be seized.

904. Should any goods as aforesaid be unsaleable or should their condition or value be such that the proceeds of sale would not in the opinion of the Premier pay the necessary expenses of sale by public auction such goods may be destroyed and neither the owner thereof nor any person or persons shall have any claim against any Officer of Customs nor against the Crown for the destruction of such goods.

Goods, etc.,
moved.

905. Whenever it shall appear necessary to any Officer of Customs or Police Officer it shall be lawful for them to cause to be removed any case or package or vehicle found upon any Government wharf and also to prevent any person from coming thereon and also to order any person already there to leave and any person neglecting or refusing to leave such place when requested so to do may be taken into custody without a warrant by any such Officer of Customs or Police Officer and shall upon conviction before any Police Magistrate be liable to a fine not exceeding five dollars ($5) or in default to imprisonment for a term not exceeding twenty-one days.

CHAPTER XXXI.

POST OFFICE.

EXPLANATION.—The Post Office maintains constant communication between all the Governments of the world, and although nations may be at war their post offices do not cease working. Mails enter in and out, they are taken care of and distributed, and delivery made of all letters entering their post offices; and although there may be some nations in the world who have not entered into treaties, still every one of them upholds the postal laws and regulations, because there is not a single nation without a post office; and it is by these means we are able to carry on the correspondence of the world, for, wherever the place may be, and at whatever distance it is, it is only needful to affix a stamp amounting to a few pence, in accordance with the regulations of the post office, and it is sure to reach that place. It is a universal regulation, and therefore all post office laws are the same, and like those stated below and accepted by us as law. It is very fortunate that it is so, for, if letters were taken about by persons some of them would surely be lost, and, in addition, we would have to pay heavy charges; but, owing to the understanding between the nations in protecting and mutually forwarding mails, this is the result—no letter is lost, and, besides, the small expense of a shilling will take a letter to the end of the world.

Establishment of Chief Post Office and appointment of officers.

909. The Premier shall establish a Chief Post Office and appoint a Chief Postmaster and may establish or appoint such other post offices or officers as may be necessary for the purposes of this Chapter.

Regulations.

910. The Premier shall from time to time make regulations for the establishment and management of post offices and the receipt despatch carriage and delivery of letters packets and newspapers and for the conduct and guidance of all postmasters and other officers and servants of the Post Office and such regulations shall be published in the Gazette and when so published shall be of the same force as if embodied in this Chapter.

Declaration to be made by officers upon appointment.

911. The Chief Postmaster and every other officer appointed under this Chapter shall before acting as such officer make and subscribe a declaration before a Police Magistrate in the form contained in Schedule A hereto.

Definition of town, country and foreign letters etc.

912. Town letters packets and newspapers shall mean any letters packets and newspapers received at any post office for delivery at such post office or at any place within the limits of the city or town in which such post office is situated and country letters packets and newspapers shall mean all letters packets and newspapers to be transmitted by post between separate post towns or places within the Kingdom and foreign letters packets and newspapers shall mean all letters packets and newspapers received from any place beyond the Kingdom or received at any post office for delivery beyond the limits of the Kingdom.

913. The following shall be deemed “packets” within the meaning of this Chapter:— Packets defined.

1. Bankers’ packets (in covers open at the ends or sides) containing notes orders cheques or pass-books sent by or to any bank or banker: Bank books.
2. Packets (in covers open at the ends or sides) containing process of or proceedings or pleadings in any Court briefs cases and instructions for counsel and their opinions thereon respectively deeds affidavits policies of assurance letters of attorney depositions or recognisances: Proceedings in Court.
3. Packets (in covers open at the ends or sides) containing patterns or samples of merchandise not having a value of their own apart from their mere use as patterns or samples and either unenclosed or enclosed in transparent bags or in bags tied round the neck so as to be easily loosened and refastened: Patterns and samples.
4. Packets (in covers open at the ends or sides) containing prices current and catalogues: Catalogues.
5. Packets (in covers open at the ends or sides) containing Acts of Tonga or official reports and returns or copies of official reports and returns made by or to any officer in the public service: Ordinances and Acts.
6. Packets (in covers open at the ends or sides) containing script pamphlets maps plans specifications music photographs on paper magazines reviews placards almanacs prospectuses paintings engravings printers’ proofs writing paper music paper or periodical publications. Plans etc.
7. Packets (in covers open at the ends or sides) containing printed or plain books: Books.
8. And (as town and country packets) packets containing seeds in bags tied so as to be easily loosened and refastened. Samples of seeds.

914. Every parcel by whatsoever name called or however made up which shall be received at any post office for delivery shall if not a packet according to the preceding Section or a newspaper be deemed a letter and charged for as such. Parcels not packets charged for as letters.

915. Every newspaper shall be sent without a cover or in a cover open at both ends and there shall not be in or upon any newspaper or the cover thereof any communication character figure letter or number (other than the words “newspaper only” or a line drawn through any report article or paragraph therein the printed title of such newspaper the printed names occupations and places of business of the printer publisher and vendor thereof the name occupation and address of the person to whom it is sent) nor shall anything be enclosed in or with or accompany such newspaper or How newspapers are sent.

cover otherwise such newspaper shall not be transmitted or delivered.

EXPLANATION.—This section is to restrain anyone fraudulently addressing a newspaper containing written matter, as the payment for sending newspapers is less than for written matter.

Extra fees.

916. The Premier may from time to time impose and alter fees to be paid upon letters packets and newspapers registered under this Chapter or posted after the time appointed by the Chief Postmaster for closing the mails and for the use of private boxes and private bags.

EXPLANATION.—Registration is paid lest an important letter be lost; they are taken care of in a separate bag, and are not given out at random. Whoever it is addressed to has to sign a receipt for it.

Fee on re-directed letters.

917. There shall be charged for redirected letters the same postage in addition to the original postage as would ordinarily be charged for letters posted at the place of redirection for the place of ultimate delivery.

Discretion of postmaster as to receiving letters etc. of inconvenient size.

918. Every Postmaster may refuse to receive or to transmit by post any letter packet or newspaper exceeding sixteen ounces in weight or of inconvenient form or dimensions or containing or reasonably suspected to contain any article likely to injure the other contents of the mail bags or any person.

Postage stamps may be made.

919. The Premier may authorise postage stamps indicating such amounts as may from time to time be deemed necessary for the purposes of this Chapter to be made and sold to any person applying for them.

Postmasters to keep stamps for sale.

920. Every Postmaster shall keep on hand for sale without premium such quantities of postage stamps as shall be deemed sufficient and shall sell them to any person applying for them.

Postage to be prepaid by stamps.

921. Except in the cases expressly herein mentioned in that behalf or in cases where any arrangement shall be made with the proper authorities of any foreign country as hereinbefore provided for the postage upon every letter packet and newspaper and all fees (if any) upon such letter packet or newspaper shall be prepaid and such prepayments respectively shall be made by affixing thereon postage stamps not obliterated or defaced and in default thereof such letter packet or newspaper shall not be transmitted or delivered but opened by the proper officer and returned to the writer. Provided that postage on loose letters received from masters of vessels from places beyond the Kingdom may be collected on delivery.

Cases in which coin may be received.

922. Notwithstanding the enactment lastly hereinbefore contained whenever it may happen that any Postmaster shall not have any postage stamps of the requisite value for sale the postage and fees (if any) upon any letter packet or newspaper may be prepaid in coin and shall be acknowledged by such Postmaster on the face or cover of such letter packet or newspaper.

Letters etc. insufficiently stamped but bearing lowest postage to

923. If any town or country letter bears postage stamps equal in value to the proper postage as a town letter not exceeding one half-ounce in weight or if any town or country packet bears postage stamps equal in value to its proper postage as a packet not exceeding four ounces in weight such letter or packet (as the case may be) shall notwithstanding the provisions hereinbefore contained be regularly transmitted and delivered but before such delivery in Tonga there shall be paid double the amount of postage which shall have been omitted to be prepaid as hereinbefore directed and the sum to be so paid shall be written on such letter or packet by the Postmaster who transmits the same.

on delivery.

EXPLANATION.—Except in the case expressly herein mentioned, or in cases where any arrangement shall be made with the proper authorities of any foreign country, as hereinafter provided for, every postmaster shall see that every letter packet and newspaper bears the postage stamps or a proper acknowledgment for coin respectively equal in value or amount to the postage and fees due thereon.

924. Except in the cases expressly herein mentioned or in cases where any arrangement shall be made with the proper authorities of any foreign country as hereinafter provided for every Postmaster shall see that every letter packet and newspaper bears either postage stamps or a proper acknowledgment for coin respectively equal in value or amount to the postage and fees due thereon.

All foreign letters to be prepaid.

925. The postage stamps upon all letters packets and newspapers shall be affixed upon the face thereof respectively and near the address written thereon and no Postmaster shall be bound to take any notice of stamps which shall be affixed elsewhere.

Stamps to be affixed on face of letter.

926. It shall not be necessary to prepay by stamps or otherwise the postage ordinarily prepaid upon letters or packets containing only returns of births baptisms marriages and deaths transmitted in compliance with the provisions of the law in that behalf by ministers of religion or other parties whose duty it is to transmit such returns to any Officer appointed to receive them.

Returns of marriages etc. need not be stamped.

927. Any person who shall send any letter packet or newspaper by post shall be entitled to have it registered at the post office at which it shall be posted upon payment of the proper fee for registration but such registration shall not render the Crown or the Postal Department or any person liable for the loss of any such letter packet or newspaper. And all letters packets or newspapers required to be registered shall be put into the post office and also be delivered at or between such hours in the day and under such regulations in every respect as the Premier shall from time to time appoint.

Letters may be registered.

928. In any case where it shall come to the knowledge of any Postmaster or Officer of the Post Office or where any Postmaster or Officer of the Post Office has reasonable cause to believe that any letter or packet not registered under this Chapter contains any money or other valuable enclosed it shall be lawful for such Postmaster or Officer to register such letter or packet and to charge it with the proper fee for registration and such fee shall be paid by the person to whom it is addressed before delivery unless such person shall before such delivery open the letter in the presence of some Postmaster or Officer of the Post Office and it shall be found not to contain any money or other valuable enclosure in which case such fee shall be remitted and the sum to be so paid shall be written on such letter or packet by the Postmaster or Officer of the Post Office

932. On the receipt at the Chief Post Office of any letter packet or newspaper hereinbefore required to be transmitted to such office such letter or packet if it was originally posted in this Kingdom or if it has been posted or contains any enclosure or be reasonably suspected to have been posted or to contain any enclosure in fraud or violation of this Chapter or of any Chapter relating to the Customs or of any regulation or order made under the authority of this Chapter may be opened in the said last-mentioned office in the manner hereinafter mentioned and every such letter and packet if it was originally posted elsewhere shall except as last aforesaid be returned to the proper authorities in the colony or country in which it was so posted but every such newspaper wheresoever it was originally posted shall be opened in the same place and manner as letters and packets originally posted in Tonga.

How letters
opened.

933. Every letter packet and newspaper which shall be opened under the provisions of this Chapter shall be opened by the Chief Postmaster or other officer in immediate charge of the Post Office Department. And every such officer shall before he shall enter upon his duties in this respect make and subscribe before a Police Magistrate a declaration in the form of Schedule B hereto which declaration such Magistrate is hereby authorised and required to receive and if any such officer shall act before making and subscribing such declaration or shall act contrary to such declaration he shall be guilty of a misdemeanour and on conviction thereof shall forfeit any sum not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars ($250).

(Police Court. Minister of Police or Chief Postmaster to prosecute.)

934. Every letter and packet which shall be opened under the provisions of this Chapter (unless it contains any valuable or saleable enclosure or shall have been posted or shall contain any enclosure in fraud or violation of this Chapter or any Chapter relating to the Customs or of any regulation or order made under the authority of this Chapter or with intent to evade payment of the postage properly chargeable thereon) shall be returned to the writer or sender thereof if his name and address can be ascertained by examination of such letter or packet but if he shall refuse to receive such letter or packet or if his name and address cannot be ascertained such letter or packet may be forthwith destroyed.

Opened letters to be returned to writer.

935. The Premier or any person authorised in that behalf by him may enter into contracts in writing on behalf of the Government for or in respect of the carriage of mails by land or sea or both for a fixed sum or for a sum depending on the number or weight of the letters packets or newspapers so carried and may impose terms and conditions as to him shall seem fit as to the vehicles and vessels to be employed the time of departure and arrival and otherwise for securing the due regular and efficient performance of the contract.

Contracts for carriage of mails may be made.

936. All mails and every loose letter packet or newspaper which at the time of the arrival of any vessel within any port or place in Tonga from any port or place beyond the same shall be on board thereof directed to any person in Tonga shall be delivered to the Postmaster or Port Officer of such port or to any person duly authorised in that behalf by writing under the hand of the Chief Postmaster or other officer in immediate charge of the Post Office. And any person who shall knowingly or negligently detain or keep in his possession or shall neglect or refuse to deliver any mail bag mail box or mail parcel or any letter packet or newspaper shall on conviction thereof forfeit a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500). Provided always that nothing in this Section shall apply to letters concerning goods on board such vessel and to be delivered with such goods or containing any commission writ or affidavit or sent by way of introduction only or concerning the bearer's private affairs.

All loose letters etc. carried on vessels to be delivered to postmaster.

937. The master or person in charge of any vessel arriving at any port or place in Tonga from any port or place beyond the Kingdom shall as soon as practicable after such arrival sign in the presence of the Postmaster or other officer appointed to receive it at such port or the town or place nearest thereto a declaration in the form contained in Schedule C hereto and thereupon such Postmaster or officer shall grant a certificate under his hand of the making thereof and until such certificate shall have been delivered to the proper Officer of Customs at such port he shall not permit

Education

966. The Minister of Education shall have the control of the Government College and all the village schools in the Kingdom and shall have power to appoint an Assistant Minister and Inspectors of Schools and Schoolmasters who shall draw up regulations for the various schools and be responsible for the condition of the school buildings and schoolmasters' houses and the duty of Minister of Education shall be discharged by the Premier.

committees.

967. He shall have power to appoint committees in the various districts to assist him in the control of the schools and in the periodical inspection of school buildings who shall report to him from time to time upon the schools.

School-
masters.

968. He shall have power to appoint schoolmasters to the various villages where there are children should there appear to be a sufficient number to call for such appointment.

School books.

969. The version of the Bible of each religion shall be used in the schools. The Minister of Education shall appoint the various books to be used in the schools and shall have power to direct that special books be used as he thinks fit.

Religious instruction.

970. It shall be lawful for ministers of every denomination to visit the schools on Wednesday in each week from nine o'clock a.m. to ten o'clock a.m. to give religious instruction to the children of their respective denominations.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

School-houses.

971. School-houses shall be built in such towns as the Minister of Education shall direct and shall be of native construction and of sufficient dimensions to contain all the children of the village and it shall be unlawful to hold school in any other building than the Government school-house.

building
houses.

972. Whenever a school-house is to be built the Mayor shall apportion the work among the taxpayers in his village and in cases where two or more villages combine for one school the work shall be apportioned among the taxpayers of every such village and whoever shall neglect to assist in building any school-house when directed to do so as aforesaid shall on conviction be liable to a fine of not exceeding ten dollars ($10) or be imprisoned with hard labour for a term not exceeding one month in default of payment. And the women of each village shall make mats for the floor of the school-house and any woman who shall neglect to take part in such work when ordered to do so shall on conviction be liable to a penalty of one dollar ($1) or be imprisoned with hard labour for four days in default of payment.

973. Schoolmasters' houses shall be erected in the various villages in the manner provided in the last preceding Section and whoever shall neglect to assist in building such house after having been ordered to do so shall on conviction be liable to the penalty laid down in the last preceding Section provided that the Schoolmaster shall have the use of a suitable allotment from which to support himself and pay his taxes whether the village be situated upon the estate of any noble or upon Crown lands. Schoolmasters' houses.

THE CONSTITUTION OF TONGA,

WHICH was granted by His Majesty on the fourth day of November One thousand eight hundred and seventy-five and amended by the Legislative Assembly on the thirty-first day of July One thousand eight hundred and eighty and ratified by the said Legislative Assembly on the fifteenth day of September One thousand eight hundred and eighty-two and sanctioned by His Majesty on the sixteenth day of September One thousand eight hundred and eighty-two.

And again amended by the Legislative Assembly on the nineteenth day of October One thousand eight hundred and eighty-two and unanimously confirmed by the Cabinet and the Privy Council and sanctioned by His Majesty on the twenty-third day of October One thousand eight hundred and eighty-two.

And again amended by the Legislative Assembly on the nineteenth day of November in the year of Our Lord One thousand eight hundred and eighty-five and unanimously confirmed by the Cabinet and the Privy Council and sanctioned by His Majesty on the twentieth day of November in the year of Our Lord One thousand eight hundred and eighty-five.

And again amended by the Legislative Assembly on the fourteenth day of December in the year of Our Lord One thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight and unanimously confirmed by the Cabinet and the Privy Council and sanctioned by His Majesty on the twenty-first day of December in the year of Our Lord One thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.

I. DECLARATION OF RIGHTS.

1. Since it appears to be the will of God that man should be free as He has made all men of one blood therefore shall the people of Tonga and all who sojourn or may sojourn in this Kingdom be free for ever. And all men may use their lives and persons and time to acquire and possess property and to dispose of their labour and the fruit of their hands and to use their own property as they will.

Declaration of freedom.

2. No person shall serve another against his will except he be undergoing punishment by law and any slave who may escape from a foreign country to Tonga (unless he be escaping from justice being guilty of homicide or larceny or any great crime or involved in debt) shall be free from the moment he sets foot on Tongan soil for no person shall be in servitude under the protection of the flag of Tonga.

Slavery prohibited.

3. Whoever may wish to bring persons from other islands to work for him may make an agreement with them for the number of years they will work for him and a copy of the written agreement he makes with them shall be deposited in the Public Offices stating Conditions under which foreign labourers may be introduced.

the amount of payment they shall receive the period they shall work and a promise to take them back to their own land. And the Government shall cause such contract to be carried out both on behalf of those who engage and those who are engaged. And such persons being so introduced shall be subject to the laws of the land and shall pay the same Customs duties as all the people in the Kingdom and taxes as shall be ordained by the King and his Cabinet. But it shall not be lawful for anyone to make an agreement with any Chinese to come and work for him. But it is not intended by this provision to prevent Chinese from coming to Tonga but to prevent them from coming as labourers. But any Chinaman wishing to reside in Tonga must produce a doctor's certificate declaring that he is free from disease and it shall thereafter be lawful for him to reside in this Kingdom.

Same law for all classes.

4. There shall be but one law in Tonga for Chiefs and commoners for Europeans and Tongans. No law shall be enacted for one class and not for another class but the law shall be the same for all the people of this land.

Freedom of worship.

5. All men are free to practise their religion and to worship God as they may deem fit in accordance with the dictates of their own consciences and to assemble for religious service in such places as they may appoint. But it shall not be lawful to use this freedom to commit evil and licentious acts or under the name of worship to do what is contrary to the law and peace of the land.

Sabbath Day sacred.

6. The Sabbath Day shall be sacred in Tonga for ever and it shall not be lawful to do work or play games or trade on the Sabbath. And any agreement made or document witnessed on this day shall be counted void and shall not be recognised by the Government.

Freedom of the press.

7. It shall be lawful for all people to speak write and print their opinions and no law shall ever be enacted to restrict this liberty. There shall be freedom of speech and of the press for ever but nothing in this section shall be held to outweigh the law of slander or the laws for the protection of the King and the Royal Family.

petition.

8. All people shall be free to send letters or petitions to the King or Legislative Assembly and to meet and consult concerning matters about which they think it right to petition the King or Legislative Assembly to pass or repeal enactments provided that they meet peaceably without arms and without disorder.

Habeas Corpus.

9. The law of the writ of Habeas Corpus shall apply to all people and it shall never be suspended excepting in the case of war or rebellion in the land when it shall be lawful for the King to suspend it.

Accused must be tried.

10. No one shall be imprisoned or punished because of any offence he may have committed until he has been sentenced according to law before a Court having jurisdiction in the case.

11. No one shall be tried or summoned to appear before any Court or punished for failing to appear unless he have first received a written indictment (except in cases of impeachment or for small offences within the jurisdiction of the Police Magistrate or for contempt of Court while the Court is sitting). Such written indictment shall clearly state the offence charged against him and the grounds for the charge. And at his trial the witnesses against him shall be brought face to face with him and he shall hear their evidence and shall be allowed to question them and to bring forward any witness of his own and to make his own statement regarding the charge preferred against him. But whoever shall be indicted for any felony such as treason sedition homicide larceny bribery perjury forgery embezzlement or other felony shall be tried by jury and this law shall never be repealed. And all claims for large amounts shall be decided by a jury and the Legislative Assembly shall determine what shall be the amount of claim that may be decided without a jury.

Procedure in criminal charges.

12. No one shall be tried again for any offence for which he has already been tried whether he was acquitted or convicted except in cases where the accused shall confess after having been acquitted by the Court and when there is sufficient evidence to prove the truth of his confession.

Accused cannot be tried twice.

13. No one shall be tried on any charge but that which appears in the writ or warrant and for which he was brought to trial.

Charge cannot be altered.

14. No one shall be intimidated into giving evidence against himself nor shall the life or property or liberty of anyone be taken away except according to law.

Trial to be fair.

15. It shall not be lawful for any Magistrate or Justice to adjudicate or for any jurymen to sit in any case in which one of his relations is concerned either as a plaintiff defendant or witness: nor shall any Magistrate or Justice sit in any case which concerns himself: nor shall any Magistrate or Justice or jurymen on any pretence receive any present or money or anything else from anyone who is about to be tried nor from any of the defendant's friends but all Magistrates and jurymen shall be entirely free and shall in no case whatever be interested or biassed in the discharge of their duties.

Court to be unbiased.

16. It shall not be lawful for anyone to enter forcibly the house or premises of another or to search for anything or to take anything the property of another excepting by the command of the Justices according to law: and should any person lose any property and know it to be concealed in any place whether house or premises it shall be lawful for him to make affidavit before a Magistrate that he believes it to be concealed in that place and he shall describe particularly the property so concealed and the place in which he believes it to be concealed and the Magistrate shall issue a search-warrant to the Police to search for the property according to the affidavit so made.

Premises cannot be searched without warrant.

Government to be impartial.

17. The King shall govern on behalf of all his people and not so as to enrich or benefit any one man or any one family or any one class but without partiality for the good of all the people of his Kingdom.

Taxation.

18. All the people have the right to expect that the Government will protect their life liberty and property and therefore it is right for all the people to support and contribute to the Government according to law. And if at any time there should be a war in the land and the Government should take the property of anyone the Government shall pay the fair value of such property to the owner. And if the Legislative Assembly shall resolve to take from any person or persons their premises or a part of their premises or their houses for the purpose of making Government roads or other work of benefit to the Government the Government shall pay the fair value as assessed by four arbitrators two of whom shall be chosen by the Government and two by the owner or owners of the premises or house or property and these four arbitrators shall choose another to be their chairman and whatever sum they may agree upon shall be held to be the fair value.

Compensation to be paid for Clerk to the Privy Council.

TREATY OF FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN GREAT BRITAIN AND TONGA.

Made by Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and His Majesty the King of Tonga on the twenty-ninth day of November, 1879, and Amended on the second day of June, 1891.

ARTICLE I.

There shall be perpetual peace and friendship between Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland her heirs and successors and His Majesty the King of Tonga his heirs and successors and between their respective dominions and subjects.

ARTICLE II.

His Majesty the King of Tonga engages to grant to no other Sovereign or State any rights powers authority or privileges in Tonga in excess of those accorded to Her Britannic Majesty.

The subjects of Her Britannic Majesty shall always enjoy in Tonga and Tongan subjects shall always enjoy in the territories of Her Britannic Majesty whatever rights privileges and immunities they now possess or which are now accorded to the subjects of the most favoured nation and no rights privileges or immunities shall be granted hereafter in Tonga to the subjects of any Foreign State which shall not equally and unconditionally be granted to the subjects of Her Britannic Majesty.

ARTICLE III.

(a) If any subject of Her Britannic Majesty in Tonga is charged with a criminal offence cognisable by British Law such charge may be tried by the Court of Her Britannic Majesty's High Commissioner for the Western Pacific Islands.

(b) If any subject of Her Britannic Majesty is charged with the violation of any Law or Regulation in Tonga relating to Customs Taxation Public Health or Local Police not cognisable as an offence against British Law he shall be amenable to the jurisdiction of the Tongan Courts the proceedings of which shall be conducted in public and the records of which shall be public and accessible.

(c) Every civil suit which may be brought in Tonga against any subject of Her Britannic Majesty in Tonga shall be brought before and tried by the Court of Her Britannic Majesty's High Commissioner.

(d) Every summons or warrant to appear as a witness before the Court of Her Britannic Majesty's High Commissioner issued in accordance with British Law and directed to a Tongan subject shall if possible be endorsed by a Judge of the Supreme Court of Tonga and when so endorsed shall have the same authority and may be enforced in like manner as if issued by the Supreme Court of Tonga but where it shall be made to appear to the Court that the delay required to procure such endorsement might lead to the escape or removal of a material witness such summons or warrant may be issued by the Court without such endorsement and shall have the same authority and may be enforced in like manner as if such summons or warrant had been directed to a subject of Her Britannic Majesty.

(e) The expression "British Law" in this Article includes any Regulations made and issued by Her Britannic Majesty's High Commissioner for the Western Pacific Islands for the government of British subjects within his jurisdiction and the Court of Her Majesty's High Commissioner shall include any British Court or Officer for the time being authorised to exercise jurisdiction in the Western Pacific.

ARTICLE IV.

Her Britannic Majesty agrees to surrender to His Majesty the King of Tonga any Tongan subject who being accused or convicted of any of the undermentioned crimes committed in the territory of the King of Tonga shall be found within the territory of Her Britannic Majesty.

The crimes for which such surrender may be granted are the following:

Murder or Attempt to Murder
Embezzlement or Larceny
Fraudulent Bankruptcy
Forgery.

Her Britannic Majesty may however at any time put an end to this Article by giving notice to that effect to His Majesty the King of Tonga. The Article shall however remain in force for six months after notice of its termination.

It is agreed that the arrangement contained in this Article shall be subject to the restrictions on the surrender of fugitive criminals contained in the Acts respecting extradition which are in force in the dominions of Her Britannic Majesty and the procedure to be adopted with respect to the surrender of such criminals shall be in conformity with the provisions of the said Acts.

Ratified on the eighth day of September one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one.

TREATY OF FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN GREAT BRITAIN
AND TONGA.

Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland Empress of India and His Majesty the King of Tonga being desirous of strengthening the relations of amity between their respective States have resolved to conclude a Treaty for that purpose and have named as their Plenipotentiaries Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland Basil Home Thomson Esquire and His Majesty the King of Tonga Jiaoji Fatafehi Tui Belehake who have communicated to each other their respective powers have agreed upon and concluded the following Articles:—

ARTICLE I.

His Majesty the King of Tonga agrees that he will have no relations of any sort with Foreign Powers concerning the alienation of any land or any part of his Sovereignty or any demand for monetary compensation.

ARTICLE II.

Her Majesty will at all times to the utmost of her power take whatever steps may be necessary to protect the Government and territory of Tonga from any external hostile attacks and for this and similar purposes Her Majesty's officers shall at all times have free access to the waters and harbours of Tonga. And the King of Tonga hereby agrees to lease to Her Majesty a suitable site or sites in any harbour or harbours in Tonga for the purpose of establishing a station or stations for the coaling and repair of Her Majesty's ships and for the erection of any military works or fortifications which may be necessary or desirable for the protection of such stations and will at all times to the utmost of his power co-operate with and aid Her Majesty's naval and military forces in the defence of such station or stations if requested so to do by Her Majesty's officers.

ARTICLE III.

Her Majesty will appoint some one to act as British Agent and Consul in Tonga who will be the authorised medium of communication between Her Majesty's Government and the Government of Tonga. And His Majesty the King of Tonga may appoint his representative to conduct such negotiations. The Agent will not interfere in any way with the internal affairs and administration in matters where the interests of British subjects or Foreigners are not concerned but will be at all times ready to advise the King and his Government in any matter in which they may seek his advice and exercise the jurisdiction vested in Her Majesty by Article V. of this Treaty until such time as Her Majesty the Queen may appoint a Chief Justice.

ARTICLE IV.

And whereas His Majesty the German Emperor has by Article II. of the Convention between Great Britain and Germany signed at London on the 14th November 1899 renounced in favour of Great Britain all the rights of Germany over the Tongan Islands including the right of extra-territoriality in the said islands and it is desirable in order the better to enable Her Majesty to fulfil her obligations under this Treaty that Her Majesty should have and exercise civil and criminal jurisdiction over all subjects of Foreign Powers in Tonga His Majesty the King of Tonga agrees that Her Majesty shall have and exercise jurisdiction as defined in Article five of this Treaty in the case of the subjects and citizens of all Foreign Powers in Tonga.

ARTICLE V.

The jurisdiction to be exercised by Her Majesty in Tonga shall extend to the hearing and settlement of all claims of a civil nature against British subjects or Foreigners and against all British and Foreign vessels by whomsoever preferred and to the trial and punishment of all offenders and crimes of which British subjects or Foreigners may be accused in Tonga except as hereinafter provided. All such cases whether civil or criminal shall be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of the Pacific Order in Council 1893 and of any Order amending the same so far as applicable. The authorities of Tonga shall at all times to the utmost of their power when called upon by the British Government render aid in making arrests or in enforcing judgments in pursuance of this jurisdiction. Provided that British subjects and Foreigners charged with violations of the Law and Regulations of Tonga relating to Customs Taxation Public Health and Local Police not cognizable as such under the Law of Great Britain shall be amenable to the jurisdiction of the Tongan Courts. The proceedings at all such trials shall be public and the records thereof accessible.

ARTICLE VI.

It is agreed that the Treaty of 29th November 1879 between Her Majesty and His Majesty the King of Tonga shall be considered to be abrogated in so far as it may be inconsistent with the provisions of this Treaty.

ARTICLE VII.

The present Treaty shall come into force and effect from the date of signature thereof but shall again become null and void if not ratified within the prescribed period.

ARTICLE VIII.

The present Treaty shall be ratified and exchanged at Nukualofa within twelve months from the date of signing.

Done at Nukualofa this 18th May 1900.

This Treaty was ratified at Nukualofa on 16th February 1901.
